Second Deck Plan Revived For Bridge

Engineers Say Addition Would Render Span Safer

The possibility of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge came back to life today before the Golden Gate Bridge Building and Operating Committee.

Engineers told the committee that a lower deck on the bridge is not only feasible but could be added without making the bridge any heavier, and even would make it safer.

Norman C. Raab, former chief of bay toll crossings, and engineers from Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco presented plans for the second deck to the committee. Raab is a private engineer, working with the Tudor Co.

Raab said the second deck could be built in three and one-half to four years for about 30 million dollars, and could be financed with bridge revenues.

He declared the second deck would be far more practical than waiting perhaps 20 years for a second bridge from San Francisco to Marin that would cost 500 million dollars.

The plan entails removing the sidewalks, electroliers, railings and some bracings from the up-

U.S. Puts Marines In Santo Domingo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another 100 U.S. Marines were landed in the strife-torn Dominican Republic today to protect Americans, as bloody fighting engulfed Santo Domingo.

None of the some 2,000 U.S. citizens remaining in the Caribbean country have been harmed, according to the latest reports reaching Washington. Evacuation was proceeding by helicopter and ship.

Meanwhile, shooting among rival Dominican forces was reported continuing in the capital city, with at least 400 Dominican dead, 1,200 wounded, and armed mobs, up to several hundred strong, sacking and looting in residential areas.

President Johnson ordered the Marines ashore from a naval force late yesterday, after getting word of the breakdown of local governmental authority in the Caribbean country. The Dominicans were unable to guarantee safety for the Americans, Johnson told the nation in an emergency radio-TV appearance.

About 400 Leathernecks landed by helicopter on the outskirts of Santo Domingo, under Johnson's order.

Another 100 from a U.S. naval force were landed early this morning.

There has been no exchange of fire between the American Marines and Dominican factions, the U.S. officials added.

As of the latest count, 215 Americans had been evacuated since the Marines landed.

$380,000 Given Sons, Widow In Auto Death

The widow and two sons of a 34-year-old Kentfield engineer who was killed in a double-fatality traffic accident on Highway 101 four years ago were awarded $380,000 yesterday by a Marin Superior Court jury.

The jury, which deliberated six hours in a complicated wrongful death suit, awarded the sum to Mrs. Barbara Harrington and her sons, aged 9 and 11, for the March 10, 1961, death of Hugh David Harrington, 212 Poplar Drive.

The judgment was against the estate of Mrs. Loretta Fallon, 35, of 57 Jordon Avenue, San Anselmo, driver of a Ford Falcon station wagon which crossed over the highway's divider strip near the Corte Madrae turnoff and crashed head on into Harrington's vehicle..

The Harringtons also named as defendants Ford Motor Co. and Cirimele Ford Sales of Oakland, the Ford outlet that sold the Falcon to Lawrence W. Fallon.

Fallon and his two Children, Thomas, 7, and Kelley Anne, 5, sought $200,000 from Ford and Cirimele in a suit combined for trial with that brought by the Harringtons. They contended the new station wagon was sold with a defective main bearing of the left front wheel and that was to blame for the accident.

The jury, however, found Ford and Cirimele without blame.

Mrs. Harrington had asked $500,00 damages, and Fallon sought $200,000.

Ford attorneys, maintained Mrs. Fallon had a medical history of dizzy spells and blackouts. The jury decided the vehicle was not defective.

The case began four weeks ago before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

County-Wide Unification Plan Asked

West Marin Group Startles Committee With Its Petition

By FRANK FARRARA

West Marin residents last night asked the Marin County Committee on School District Organization to consider the possibility of unifying school districts throughout Marin.

The committee, still recuperating from a long campaign on unification in the Tamalpais High School District, was surprised by the move.

They were talking about Tomales High School District when Shirley Morgan of Inverness presented a petition bearing the signatures of 106 residents of the West Marin School District. It requested that the committee hold a public hearing to determine whether it will study countywide unification.

PUBLIC HEARING

The committee said that if the petition represents 10 per cent of the electors of the district, it will call a public hearing.

The petition said:

"In view of the failure of the Tamalpais unification measure, and failure to gain state board approval of the Tomales proposal, and because of substantial opposition to the Dixie-San Rafael proposal, we feel that this study might provide an equitable solution to local objections which seem to prevent majority support of recent attempts at consolidation."

SAVE MONEY

He also said that elections on a countywide basis would save the county money "since unification elections are required by law to be held every other year. Finally, we believe the children of Marin County have suffered quite long enough from the political meanderings of their parents. It seems time to arrange financial and administrative efficiency for their long-term benefit and to get back to the immediate problems, neglected for so long, of educating this generation of Marin children."

Committee members started to ponder the ramifications of a countywide district when secretary Edwin L. Blackmore noted that if the petition is valid, all they have to do by law is hold the public hearing.

"The purpose of the public hearing is to determine if there is enough interest and support to warrant a study," he said.

The committee set no date for

Whites, Negroes In 'Small Riot'

MALVERN, Pa. (AP) — About 25 adults and teen-agers, white and Negro, battled last night with fists, clubs and knives near the Chester Valley Country Club in what a police official called "a small race riot."

Three persons were injured and 15 arrested by police in nearby East Whiteland Township, Chester County.

Police Chief William Eason said the fighting had no connection with Monday night's rock-throwing, window-breaking demonstration by Negroes in nearby Parkesburg after a Negro boy was shot and killed, allegedly by a white boy, following an argument.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST HIT BY MAJOR EARTHQUAKE

MAN KILLED—One man was killed when this wall collapsed on him on this Seattle street after a severe earthquake hit the Pacific Northwest today. There was widespread damage and many reports of injury. (UPI Telephoto)

At Least 2 Dead; Cities Damaged

SEATTLE (AP)—A major earthquake hit the Pacific Northwest at 8:29 a.m. (PDT) today, causing widespread damage and two or more deaths.

The first confirmed fatality was in Seattle, where Adolphus Lewis, age undetermined, was struck by debris.

A warehouseman also was killed at the Fisher flouring mill when a water tank collapsed and a wall fell on him. Four others in the mill were hurt.

There were unconfirmed reports of other possible deaths in Seattle.

There were scores of injuries, many in Seattle from falling debris as some brick facing on older buildings toppled into the street.

The quake, rated at an intensity of 6.5 on the Richter scale, was felt from Coos Bay, on the Oregon coast, to southern British Columbia and east as far as Idaho.

The earthquake belt was at least 600 miles long, from north to south, and 400 miles wide.

Alaska points reported it was not felt there.

The tremor did structural damage in half a dozen cities and knocked out some hydro-electric circuits at the giant Grand Coulee Dam in northeast Washington.

Norman Rasmussen, University of Washington seismologist, said the quake was not as severe as one on April 13, 1949, that killed eight persons and did $25 million damage in the Northwest. The 1949 quake registered 7 on the Richter scale.

Dr. Bruce Bolt, University of California seismologist at Berkeley, placed the center at a little north of Seattle.

The Coast Guard said there was no sign of a seismic wave.

The historic Good Friday quake in Alaska last year, strongest ever recorded on the continent, was rated at 8.3. The San Francisco quake of 1960 was 8.25.

At the Rainier Brewing Co. plant in Seattle, two 2,000-barrel aging tanks were knocked off their foundations. One tank split and enough beer for 15,000 cases spewed out.

Workers in Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Aberdeen, Everett, Longview, Centralia, Ellensburg and many other cities streamed into the streets.

Buildings shook and swayed over the entire area. Broken windows, water lines and wires were reported by the hundreds.

The quake was described as a series of at least three rolling

NORTHWEST HIT—Parts of Washington, Oregon and British Columbia were hit by a severe earthquake today. In Oregon tremors were felt as far south as Coos Bay and east to Prineville. Downtown Tacoma streets were littered with rubble. Swaying buildings in Aberdeen were evacuated.

Alto Bowl Annex Gets County Nod

The 137-acre Alto Bowl annexation to the City of Mill Valley was approved today by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission with a condition.

The condition, requested by S. J. Hugh Allen, owner of one-fourth of the property, is that the city provide service to the annexed territory.

The condition was included in the action because of a feeling of mutual distrust between residents of Mill Valley and Alto.

"I think we have to live with the fact that the people in Alto don't trust them," commissioner H. G. Marchant said.

The Alto annexation was held over from the commission meeting two weeks ago to see if there was any chance of working out mutual exchange of services.

John F. Barrows, commission executive officer, said such mutal exchange should work out in principle, but "in this particular instance it is not a practical policy."

Commissioner Wayne Womack questioned the need for a

Open U.C. Regent Sessions Approved By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A constitutional amendment requiring the regents of the University of California to open most of their meetings to the public was approved by the Assembly today by a 70-5 vote.

Opponents protested in a half-hour debate that the measure implied criticism of the regents for their handling of the recent "free speech" controversy on the Berkeley campus.

Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, authored the constitutional amendment that would require the open meetings. If it gets two-thirds approval in the Senate, the amendment would be on the 1966 ballot.

Petris said the measure was not intended as a criticism of the regents.

"It is simply an attempt to bring the regents within the laws that make other governing bodies conduct their business in public," he said.

Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Berkeley, accused the current Board of Regents of breaking an earlier promise to the legislature.

Mulford said the regents were exempted from earlier anti-secrecy legislation after they had pledged they would open their meetings.

"The regents are guilty of at least a degree of bad faith in

Rusty Pistol Is Linked To Girl's Death

By ROSS DAVIS

A rusty .25 caliber pistol found in the Thunderbird car of the boyfriend of murder victim Nonita Vicera, may have been used to bludgeon the girl before she was killed on good Friday.

Sheriff's officers said today that San Francisco police laboratory tests revealed blood on the butt of the gun, found in the vehicle of Virgilio Restauro, 24.

The blood type, officers added, is "O," the same as that of the slain 16-year-old Daily City girl and the same type found in the car and in a pool of blood left where the vehicle was stored in a San Francisco commercial garage over the Easter weekend.

Also on the gun butt, investigators said, were small black hairs, possibly from the head of the dark-haired victim.

The latest clues meshed more tightly the network of evidence against Restauro, charged with the murder and being sought across the nation.

Restauro, alson known as Billy Lopez, disappeared from his dishwashing job in San Francisco the morning of the murder. His car was parked in the San Francisco garage about noon on good Friday, and a WASHINGTON (UPI) —Edward W. Brooke, Negro attorney general of Massachusetts, says the Republican party needs a new platform to give "new direction and vigor" to the GOP's 1966 election efforts.

Brooke repeated yesterday his call for a national convention or conference of his party to rewrite its platform. He said it was not easy for the party out of power to offer new ideas under their present program.

Pakistan Claims Victory Is Easy

BIAR-BET, Kutch (AP) — Pakistani forces claim they scored an easy victory over Indian troops in a four-day battle that ended with Pakistani occupation of this oasis in the baked, barren Rann of Kutch.

It is one of the most unlikely and desolate battlegrounds on earth. Soon the heat-scorched wastes will become marshy tideland, covered by water from the Arabian Sea whipped up by monsoon rains.

The temperature reaches 120 degrees during the day. The desert shimmers in the blinding heat.

Pakistani field commanders said almost all fighting takes place at night, when the heat subsides. The darkness also allows more freedom of movement across the empty flats where during the day one can see for miles.

Troops are dug in around the oasis which is several miles long. Some Pakistani tanks are parked nearby. No villages or civilians can be seen.

The Pakistani officers talked light-heartedly about their combat experience.

"We would have pushed them clear to Bombay," a captain said with a laugh. He said his troops suffered no fatalities in taking Biar-Bet and that the first evacuee was a wounded Indian.

The Pakistanis said they captured the oasis Monday night, inflicting heavy Indian losses. Biar-Bet is five miles south of what India claims to be its western border in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

Maj. Gen. Tikka Khan said 350 Indian troops had been killed in heavy fighting since April 9. Khan, Pakistani commander in the Kutch, said only about 20 Pakistani soldiers had been killed. He said 45 Indians had been captured, including two officers.

India claimed 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured and put its own losses at 65.

Australia Planning To Send Army Troops To Viet Nam

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia is preparing to send up to 800 army troops to South Viet Nam for combat duty with U.S. and South Vietnamese forces, government sources reported today.

The sources said the Cabinet has approved sending the battalion-sized unit.

An Australian contingent of 800 men would be the second largest unit from any of America's allies in South Viet Nam. South Korea has 2,000 troops there, but they are primarily a work force to build and repair roads, bridges and railways.

Government sources said the decision to send Australian combat forces is not a result of the visit to Canberra last week by U.S. presidential envoy Henry Cabot Lodge. The Australian Cabinet had considered the idea of a more positive involvement in Viet Nam for some time before Lodge's visit, the sources said.

Court Rules Phone Rates Cut, Refund

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Supreme Court has ruled that Pacific Telephone Co. must reduce its rates and that customers must not expect all of the refund ordered by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The unanimous opinion was handed down yesterday.

On the question of lower rates, the court said the commission's order last June that Pacific Telephone must reduce its future rate of return to 6.3 per cent from 6.75 per cent was "in the bounds of reasonableness." The reduction would mean lower charges to customers.

The court said, however, that the commission exceeded its authority when it ordered an $80 million refund. Instead, it authorized a refund of $36 million. This would amount to about $5 for every single party line or $4 for every two-party line.

The court maintained that the commission was wrong in setting July 1962 as the basis for figuring refunds.

That was the month the commission first inquired into Pacific Telephone rates.

Instead, the court said, June 1964 must be used for calculating refunds. That was when the PUC issued the refund order.

Figuring in the court's ruling on lower rates was the new PUC policy that in the future will prohibit the telephone company from listing philanthropic donations as cost items when fixing rates.

Doctor Says Clues Found To Control Pollen, Fallout

NEW YORK (AP)—With the aid of an airplane, a physician says he's found clues to help victims of hay fever and asthma.

The clues involve the way warm air currents and cool air carry around the pollen grains and mold spores triggering these ailments.

Atomic fallout is apparently moved about in much the same way, so "we are not helpless in our control of fallout" or of pollen, Dr. Herman A. Heise of Milwaukee, Wis., said today.

"We can avoid much of it by staying in the warmer city rather than in the cooler country. Smoke screens and the resulting clouds prevent radiation of heat, thus minimizing fallout," he told the Aerospace Medical Association.

"Our findings indicate we can prophesy pollen counts as accurately as we can prophesy the weather," he said. "Yesterday's (pollen) counts may be interesting, but tomorrow's estimate has practical value" for victims of hay fever.

Heise and associates, in a private plane, trapped and counted pollen grains and mold spores at heights up to 20,000 feet.

A simple mechanism seems chiefly responsible for the rising and falling of these solid particles, he said.

"When the earth is heated by the sun, the lighter warmer air at the surface balloons upward through the cooler air, causing instability, and the upward currents carry the tiny solid particles into the clouds and haze layer," Heise said.

"At night with clear skies, conditions are reversed. The earth cools by radiation, so that the air above now is warmer than the air near the ground. Upward currents cease, and the now-stable air allows the particles to settle. The haze layer actually drifts earthward, carrying the particles with it."

Mississippi Flood Moves Into Missouri

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The churning Mississippi River swirled through the Quincy area in west-central Illinois today, while 140 miles upriver weakened dikes were battered in the Quad Cities of Iowa and Illinois.

The record flood burst dikes and spread debris-littered water over thousands of acres from Dubuque, Iowa, to Hannibal, Mo.

Floodwaters rolled over more than 5,600 acres of farm land south of Quincy, but most of the city of 45,000 residents is situated on bluffs and is safe.

More than 15 square blocks of the business district were inundated in Hannibal, a city of 20,000.

The river burst a levee in the South Quincy drainage district, and engulfed more than 5,600 acres. Some 150 persons were evacuated.

Illinois 57 south of Quincy was closed and most rail traffic was stopped. Highway 36 and the Mark Twain Bridge were in danger of being closed.

Two National Guardsmen on the South Quincy levee when it broke were rescued by boats.

About 24 miles south of Quincy, the 550 residents of Hull, Ill., were ready to leave. Officials said the levees protecting the town would not hold.

In Hannibal, 23 families were evacuated from low areas as the river reached its highest level in history. Hannibal has no levee.

Civil Defense workers used a boat to patrol against looting in the flooded Hannibal business district. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a 25½-foot crest Sunday.

AP Seeks Satellite Channel

NEW YORK (AP) — In the first such move by a news service, the Associated Press has applied for a communications channel through space to add to its worldwide facilities for distributing news.

The AP's application for service direct from the Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) has not been acted upon by the Federal Communications Commission.

Federal legislation permitting establishment of a public corporation for communications by satellite authorized COMSAT to furnish circuits "to the carrier and to other authorized entities."

The AP application was filed April 15.

Harry T. Montgomery, AP deputy general manager, said in a letter that AP now uses telephone lines, undersea cables and radio. He said AP "is actively seeking improved international communications facilities especially in areas not directly served via cable from the United States."

MARINES

Another 1,100 Americans were evacuated Tuesday.

In Washington, the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS) was summoned into emergency session, at U.S. request, to get a report on the action and to consider possible peace making efforts to end the bloody civil war.

U.S. officials said the United States was taking no sides in the political turmoil engulfing the republic. They said the Marines will serve no cause except to protect Americans and will stay there until their mission is completed.

Johnson's order marked the first such use of Marines in Latin America in years. U.S. officials expected criticism from Latin Americans mindful of American "gunboat diplomacy" of a bygone era. But under international law, they said, a nation can send its forces to another land to protect its nationals when the local government breaks down.

Reports reaching the President told of gun battles in Santo Domingo, looting, Communist agitation, the collapse of local authority and word from the Dominicans that they could not guarantee the safety of the Americans there.

In attempts to return to democracy after 34 years of Trujillo dictatorship, Santo Domingo has had 8 governments in the last 4 years. The country also has been in deep economic trouble.

Youth Opens Fire On Girls In School Yard

ATLANTA (AP) — A youth said to be having troubles with his grades sat atop a high school stadium in suburban Chamblee today and fired a high-powered rifle at 200 girls on the athletic field, causing them to flee in terror.

No one was injured.

"Students, many of whom burst into tears, took cover in nearby woods and behind the stadium as the boy fired at random with the rifle," said Mayor W. B. Malone, who rushed to the scene.

Malone said the boy, about 16, was talked into surrendering the rifle by Police Capt. Thurman Terrell.

"The good Lord was just with us. Nobody got hurt," Terrell said.

Police reported the boy was in custody of juvenile court authorities.

State Sales Tax Increases

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State sales tax collections are up eight per cent this fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

Cranston said sales tax revenue was about $720 million during the first nine months of fiscal 1964-65, an increase of about $53 million over the first nine months of fiscal 1963-64.

"Fully half of the increase can be attributed to better business," Cranston said, "while the other half has resulted from population growth and price rises." The fiscal year ends on June 30.

person matching his description drove it out the following evening.

The girl's body was discarded in Mount Tamalpais State Park and was found on April 19. The following day the Thunderbird was found abandoned near Golden Gate Park in San Francisco. Inside, officers said, was a pool of blood, the girl's rosary beads, her purse, her blood-stained leather jacket, and the gun.

The gun was found in a box under the car's front seat, but officers at first said it apparently had no connection with the slaying.

Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said the girl died from six stab wounds of the head, but apparently had also been struck with a blunter instrument during the attack. The stab wounds were from a small instrument such as an icepick or screwdriver, the coroner said.

Officers said Restauro is believed to sometimes carry a thin sheathed knife.

shocks that lasted for 45 seconds to a minute.

Heavy damage was done to some capitol buildings at Olympia, and a new Post Office there was closed for the day because of damage and injuries.

Grand Coulee Dam, in northeast Washington, reported the shock was felt for more than 45 seconds. Some circuits at the big hydroelectric dam were knocked out.

At Olympia, the State Capitol Buildings shook for nearly a minute and state employees ran into the open.

The tremor was felt from the coast to eastern Washington and from Oregon into British Columbia.

In Seattle, the two-story, concrete Seattle Times Building jiggled like an electric vibrator. Plaster sifted down in the Associated Press rooms and Teletype printers stopped briefly. Telelphone service also was interrupted for a few moments.

A Seattle woman was reported to have suffered a heart attack when the temblor knocked down the trolley of the electric transit bus on which she was riding.

In Tacoma, 30 miles to the south, one of the main downtown streets, Pacific Avenue, was littered with bricks and debris.

At Everett, 26 miles north, the state patrol radio tower toppled, streets buckled and some water lines broke. Boulders came rolling down onto the Stevens Pass Highway from Mt. Persis east of Everett, causing some damage.

Gov. Dan Evans ordered evacuation of the main Capitol Building, which suffered severely, and all other buildings in the Capitol complex were left with only skeleton crews.

Skylights over the House and Senate chambers crashed on the lawmakers' desks but sessions had not convened and the rooms were empty.

The Tacoma Narrows Bridge, successor to the famed "Galloping Gertie" which fell into Puget Sound during a windstorm nearly a quarter of a century ago, withstood the shock without serious damage.

A number of bridges in Seattle were closed temporarily because of light damage.

Less than three hours after the shock, Mayor Dorm Braman said Seattle was returning quickly to normal.

Heintz Is Elected School President

Jeff Heintz was elected yesterday to serve as student body president at Terra Linda High School.

He won the post over Mike Krambs and Ben Edger.

The school does not give out the number of votes each candidate received.

Others elected yesterday were Craig Hill, vice president; Paul Cole, treasurer; Jackie Bridges, commissioner of assemblies; Sue McGee, commissioner of social affairs; Pat Benton, commissioner of public relations; Mary Nenes, secretary, and Linda Nuti, commissioner of spirit. The last two candidates were unopposed.

Udall Fears Smaller Park At Seashore

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall has raised the possibility that the 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore might be reduced in size.

Udall brought up the possibility during a news conference at which he was asked about protests by Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield over the proposed swap of government timberlands in Oregon for privately owned land in the national seashore.

"We might want to shrink the boundaries," Udall said when asked about difficulties encountered by the National Park Service in acquiring land for the park 35 miles northwest of San Francisco.

When the park was created, Congress limited land acquisition costs to $14 million. That amount has long since been expended.

Udall defended negotiations with William Sweet, Port Orford, Ore., over a possible exchange of Oregon public lands for land owned by Sweet within the currently authorized boundaries of the national seashore. He indicated that funds for purchase of Sweet's land might be forthcoming from the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

The conservation fund was authorized by the last Congress to Provide money for park purposes, but Udall said the limitation placed by Congress on spending for the Point Reyes Park was still in effect.

"Our people were way off target four years ago," Udall conceded.

Court Rules Estate Tax Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that beneficiaries of certain kinds of flight insurance must pay estate taxes on amounts they receive.

Justice Hugo L. Black delivered the 8-1 decision. Justice William O. Douglas noted a dissent.

The decision turned on the court's holding that, for a beneficiary to be exempted from estate tax, the person whose life is insured must surrender all elements of ownership of the policy.

Black said nothing in his opinion was to be taken as meaning that a policyholder is without power "to divest himself of all incidents of ownership over his insurance policy by a proper gift or assignment, so as to bar its inclusion in his gross estate."

The justice said that, in the case decided today, no such transfer of ownership was made on two policies involved.

Chou Rips U.S. Parley Plan

LONDON (UPI) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou en-lai said today the Johnson administration wanted to use an international conference on Cambodia "to continue its efforts to induce the Vietnamese people to submit."

In a dispatch from Peking, monitored here, the New China News Agency (NCNA) quoted Chou as saying "in any circumstances, it is absolutely impermissible for U.S. imperialism to legalize its puppet regime in Saigon by thrusting it into an international conference."

Chou reiterated his government's position that in any international conference on Indo-China, the South Vietnamese people could be represented only by the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) and not the present Saigon government.

Civic Affairs Council Adds To Pleas For Voting Probe

Grand jury investigation of election proceedings was demanded by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night as a result of irregularities preceding elections April 20.

The grand jury already began investigation into the mix-up yesterday.

"Had the Tamalpais School District unification election been close, there would have been all kinds of challenges in regard to the legality of the election," said Naphtali H. Knox, council president.

The council opposed the proposed location of the county dump on the Corte Madera tidelands and called on the board of supervisors to devise a long-range plan for waste disposal in the county.

Robert Mertle of Santa Venetia was appointed to form a committee to make analysis of the proposed Marincello project.

per deck to lighten the bridge. The lower deck would provide five 12-foot wide lanes with sidewalks on both sides.

The proposed lower deck would have a suicide barrier, Raab said. No barrier would be placed on the upper deck because "if a person jumped, he would land on the lower deck."

The two-decked span would have a five-lane upper deck for traffic to San Francisco and the lower deck would be for northbound traffic.

Present capacity of about 70,000 vehicles per day would be doubled.

"I believe that all together, we will have a stronger and safer bridge than we now have," Raab told the committee.

Several members questioned Raab about the problems of handling traffic on the bridge approaches if his plan were realized.

Burch Bachtold, assistant district engineer of the state Division of Highways, said major modifications would be needed on the Marin side of the bridge. He suggested a second tunnel at Waldo would have to be considered.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, one of the Marin directors, said: "I think it sounds good. My only concern would be the pinch that would be caused during construction when three lanes on the upper deck would have to be closed periodically."

Hardcastle said highway engineers estimated 10 to 20 million dollars would be needed to improve the approach to the double-decked bridge in Marin. To be able to double the bridge's capacity at that cost seemed reasonable, he said.

Director Dan London of the building and operating committee said the second deck plan would be taken under consideration for further discussion.

condition in the commission resolution. If a city wants to annex, it is implicit that it intends to provide services, he contended.

This argument was strengthened by Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum, who said the city fully intended to give municipal services, including sanitary service.

Allen two weeks ago vigorously opposed the methods used by Mill Valley in its annexation proceedings but said the annexation of his land would probably be a benefit. However, he insisted on a condition that will hold Mill Valley to provide what it has promised.

Hoffa Loses Union Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa lost a crucial round today in his battle to keep control of the union.

The U.S. Court of Appeals here ruled that Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz could subpoena union financial records.

The Labor Department announced last May 11 it wants to find out whether Teamster funds were illegally used to pay costs of Hoffa's defense in jury fixing trials.

Rescheduled Driving Trial Finally Starts

Drunken driving trial of Frank Coffey, 39, rescheduled six times in Marin Municipal Court, finally started today with selection of a jury.

Coffey, of Richmond, was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 in March of 1964. A series of continuances for various reasons prevented trial until today. Judge Joseph G. Wilson is presiding. Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas is prosecuting and Harold R. Hayes, San Rafael attorney, is defending Coffey.

the hearing, but agreed to consider setting a date at its May 19 meeting. Blackmore said there is no deadline for the hearing date, but the county counsel has advised that "it be in a reasonable length of time."

J. R. B. Ellis, president of the Kentfield School District Board, said West Marin citizens are "entitled to their request" but suggested a moratorium on unification proposals affecting the Tamalpais High School District for awhile.

Committee members said they could not consider Ellis' proposal because of the pending public hearing.

They asked for an opinion from the county counsel on how countywide unification would effect the proposed San Rafael-Dixie schools unification, and the Petaluma High School District unification proposal which will be voted upon June 8. The latter includes Laguna, Union and Lincoln School Districts in Marin.

Committee members also asked for statistics on the assessed valuation and tax rate of a countywide unified district.

The committee also discussed the State Board of Education's third rejection of the proposal to unify all districts in the Tomales High School District.

Committee member Jack L. Mengel said the state board "should spell out their thinking when they repeatedly fail to approve a proposal."

Committee members wondered what the deadline is for submitting another proposal for the Tomales High area, and finally decided to ask for county counsel's opinion.

Committee members Mrs. Rulon E. Brown and Dr. John Hamren were absent.

not keeping that pledge," said Mulford.

Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, said the legislation would not have required the regents to open their meetings during last winter's free speech controversy.

"At that time, when the regents were criticized for meeting behind closed doors, they were considering possible action against the chancellor and teaching assistants. They could still consider such action in closed session under this measure," said Waldie.

'United Front' Urged Of GOP

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California Republicans should present a "united front" at the United Republicans of California (UROC) convention in Sacramento this weekend, according to former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

Knight made his plea yesterday after UROC vice chairman Richard Davis denounced pending convention resolutions to impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren and read U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel out of the party. Davis is seeking the chairmanship of the UROC.

"If the Republicans are to win in California," Knight said, "the party must present a united front. We should not berate or boo candidates or office holders just because we do not agree with many of their stands."

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Daisy Dunham Succumbs

Mrs. Daisy Dunham, 74, of 30 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, died in her home this morning, apparently of a heart attack. Efforts by a Corte Madera Fire Department resuscitation squad failed to revive her.

Mrs. Dunham, a resident of Marin since 1955, was the widow of Stanley Dunham, an engineer on the original survey for the Los Angeles Aqueduct.

A native of Newhall, Los Angeles County, she had been in ill health since her arrival in Marin 10 years ago.

She is survived by two daughters, Barbara and Dorothy V. Dunham of Corte Madera, and two sisters, Mrs. Netti Braniger and Mrs. Ruth Henry of Whittier.

Private funeral will be held at Inglewood Cemetery in Los Angeles County.

SISTER HANNIFAN

Requiem High Mass was offered today for Sister Kieran Hannifan, O.P., teacher at Dominican Upper School in San Rafael from 1934 to 1950 who died in her sleep Tuesday night in her quarters at Santa Catalina Preparatory School for Girls in Monterey.

Sister Kieran, a native of Fallon, Nev., was a graduate of Dominican College and held a master's degree from Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

She made her vows in the Dominican order in 1931 at the San Rafael Mother House, where a second Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Sister Kieran taught mathematics, science and history classes at Dominican Upper School and was in charge of student nuns there for about three years until 1949.

She was made superior of Santa Catalina school when it was founded in 1950. She became the school's principal at the end of her term of office as superior.

Surviving are her father, John Hannifan, and a sister, Mrs. Bert Hanks, both of Fallon, Nev., and a brother, Martin Hannifan of Butte, Mont.

Rosary will be recited Friday at 8 p.m. in the Dominican Convent Chapel.

Burial will be in the Dominisans Sisters' Cemetery in Benecia.

Tough Drug Rules Passed By Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP)—One of the hottest issues of the 1963 legislative session has neared final action this year with scarcely a ripple on the Capitol sea.

Theissue is whether the pain-killing drug Percodan should be put on triplicate prescription, requiring copies of prescriptions be sent to the pharmacist and state narcotics agency as well as kept by the doctor.

Yesterday, on a 30 to 1 vote, the Senate agreed tighter rules were needed. It approved the bill by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and returned it to the lower house for concurrence in minor amendments. Gov. Brown's desk is the next stop.

Stormy hearings were held in 1963 on the same bill, with the drug's maker contending it was too restrictive. The Senate passed the bill that year, but an Assembly committee killed it.

Opposition on all fronts died when the federal government classified Percodan as an addictive drug last year.

Only Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo, voted no yesterday.

One Long Parking Lot Is Needed

LONDON (AP) — With more than 12 million motor vehicles using Britain's 200,000 miles of roads, each vehicle has only 30 yards to itself, says an official road traffic research report.

By 1980, the number of vehicles will have gone up to 27 million and, even accounting for road building projects planned or under consideration, there will be less than 15 yards for each vehicle to maneuver, the report adds.

Quentin Inmates Flee From Humboldt Camp

Humboldt County authorities were searching today for two San Quentin Prison inmates who walked away from the prison's High Hock Conservation Camp near Weott last night.

Sought were Louis G. Hernandez, 44, serving a six-month to 10-year sentence for grand theft, and Reginald M. Wood, 28, serving six-month to 15-year sentence for burglary. Both are from Los Angeles County.

Talk Slated On San Anselmo's 'Interest Zone'

Boundaries of San Anselmo's "Sphere of interest" will be discussed at Monday's meeting of the San Anselmo Planning Commission at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

The meeting will be the first with former chairman Charles R. Leitzell in his new post as city engineer and public works director. The question of the sphere of interest was raised by the county planning department, asking cities of areas where county planning action would concern various cities.

The commission is also expected to set a date for a joint meeting with the chamber of commerce to discuss planned unit development zoning the entire town center area.

Miller Library Collection To Be Dedicated Saturday

The Clem Miller memorial library collection will be dedicated at the Civic Center Library at 3 p.m. Saturday by Appellate Court Justice Richard M. Sims Jr. and County Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

The library, sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, will consist of books, papers and pamphlets dealing with civil liberties and civil rights.

Miller, former congressman from Marin, who was killed in a plane crash in October, 1962, was founder of the Marin Chapter of ACLU.

A bronze plaque, designed by Gerald Ries of Mill Valley, will be presented to Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian.

The collection was gathered as the result of a two-year fund drive led by Sali Lieberman of Mill Valley, who said the campaign to augment the collection will continue.

Lieberman said he hopes that colleges, universities and scholars will continue to contribute works in the field of civil liberties and civil rights.

"We hope to make this a basic resource for judges, lawyers, teachers, students and everybody else with an interest in this area," he said.

The Marin Arts Quartet will play at the dedication ceremony.

Assembly Bills Attack Farm Hiring Practices

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Unscrupulous farm hiring practices have been attacked in three bills unanimously approved by the Assembly Industrial Relations Committee.

The bills would require contractors to print wage contracts in both Spanish and English; prohibit recruiting or transporting laborers without first having obtained a legitimate work order; and require payment by contractors to laborers for time spent traveling should there be no work after they were contracted and transported.

Little Girl Snatched From Truck's Path

Woodfin sat in her playpen yesterday as a truck loaded with 35 tons of steel bore down on her.

Driver Jack Moore, who had parked the truck and saw it start to move, raced ahead of it and snatched the 15-month-old tot out of the playpen just before the truck wrecked the front of the house.

"Thank God," said John Woodfin, Susan's father, beaming at the fleetfooted 24-year-old Moore who has a wife and four children of his own in Tulare.

How's Susan? "Just fine," said Mrs. Woodfin. "But a little pale."

2 Santa Rosa Men Injured In Crash

Two Santa Rosa residents suffered whiplash injuries at 4:35 p.m. yesterday when their car got caught in the middle of an end - to - end three - car collision on Highway 101 about 500 feet south of the Alto overpass.

James K. McGuire, 20, driver, and his passenger, Dorothy Fryman, 17, were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Highway patrolmen reported a car driven by James E. Stites, 36, of Santa Rosa had stopped in northbound lanes because of stalled traffic ahead. The McGuire car stopped behind it and was struck by a car driven by Fred R. Dickson, 64, of 141 Westward Drive, Corte Madera, fromer San Quentin Prison warden and now a member of the California Adult Authority. The Dickson car pushed the McGuire car into the Stites car.

County Grand Jury Probe Voting 'Mess'

Marin County Grand Jury last night continued its investigation into election irregularities, and naming a committee to delve further into the matter.

George R. Scott, foreman, said testimony was heard from Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, and Robert Stannard, assistant superintendent.

The panel is studying mix-ups in school district ballot printings for the April 20 elections, information missing from sample ballots, and accusations that Tamalpais High School District officials violated the Education Code in attempting to influence outcome of a unification election.

Scott said the committee, composed of Harry M. Williams, chairman; Jack H. Stockstill, Frederick C. Robbins and Ethyle M. Reinndollar, would probe the entire "election mess."

He said he hoped for a report at the next regular meeting, May 12, along with corrective recommendations "so it won't happen again."

Scott said some urgency is involver, because other elections are scheduled in June.

He said the grand jury also studied further its recommendation that a portion of grand jury members be carried over each year to the new panel, to provide a reservoir of experience. He said jurors agreed that three members should be retained, and he will relay this recommendation to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, and State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

A bill is now before the Senate to effect the carry-over of grand jury members.

KIWANIS AWARDS

Ousted Police Chief Cited As 64's Top Law Officer

Sausalito Police Sgt. Howard Goerndt, fired as Sausalito police chiefly in 1963, was cited yesterday as Marin's outstanding police officer during 1964.

Goerndt, who was police chief for five years before being fired and then rehired as a sergeant, was honored by the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club.

The club praised Sergeant Goerndt for his valor when, risking his life, he saved tenants from flames which engulfed and destroyed Harbor House, a four-story Sausalito hotel, last July.

Sergeant Goerndt, who warned tenants and personally led an elderly woman out of the burning building, was treated for smoke inhalation and burns in the throat after the fire.

The Kiwanis Club named as outstanding Marin fireman for 1964, Nobe Kuwatani, a volunteer fireman for 12 years in the Tiburon Fire Protection District.

Kuwatani, who operates a laundry in Tiburon, was cited as "an ideal leader of men in fire emergencies, a man who is constantly available, dependable and a tremendous asset to the department."

The club presented a special award to Sgt. Louis Foster Jr., juvenile officer of the San Rafael Police Department, for the way "he has approached the problems involved head-on with a philosophy which has gained him the respect and admiration, not only of the offended, but of the offender."

A tough, 12-week training program, emphasizing practical work, history, customs, health problems and culture of the country to which they are going, is given to Peace Corps volunteers.

The 1964 Youth Photography Award, sponsored by the Family Ministry of West Germany, produced 7,000 entries. Eighty-five per cent of the participants were boys but more than 25 per cent of the 43 top prizes were won by girls.

What you should know before choosing a mover:

Unless you're a traveling salesman, you don't move every day of the week.

So when you do move it's only natural that you'll have some questions about it.

How should I go about choosing a mover? How do movers charge? Should I do the packing myself? These are some of the things you may want to know.

Here are some of the answers:

How do moving companies charge? It depends on how far you're going.

If your move is a local, in-town move, you will be charged by the hour. Does this mean you should choose the company with the lowest hourly rate? Not at all. A company with low rates and poorly trained moving men could wind up costing you more because the men would take so much longer to do the job. Better trained moving men can actually save you money.

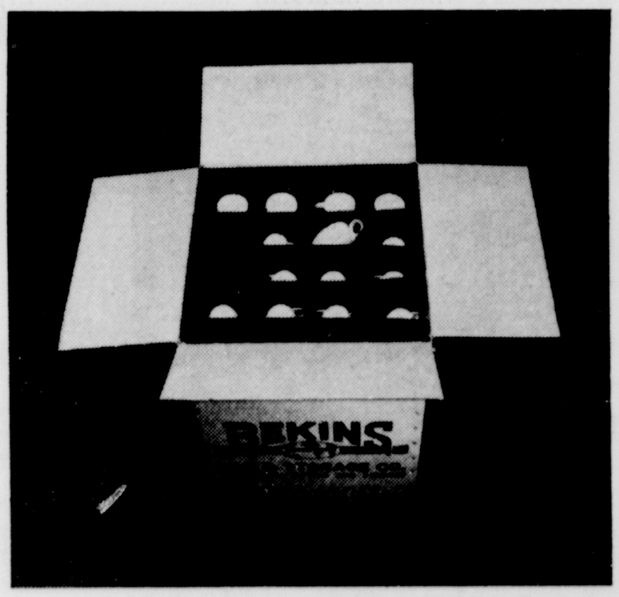
If your move is long distance, the moving company will not charge you by the hour. Length of time they take has nothing to do with it. You'll be charged by the weight of your possessions and the distance you are moving. The weight of your possessions is determined at an official weight station after they have been loaded on the moving van.

Should you call a large moving company if you have only a small amount of furniture? Some people have the idea that just because they only have a few pieces of furniture to move, a large moving company would not be interested in them. They feel that the only moving companies that would be interested would be small ones. Don't kid yourself. A large moving company wants your business. No matter how small your move is. The reason most big companies got big was because they did a good job on a lot of small moves.

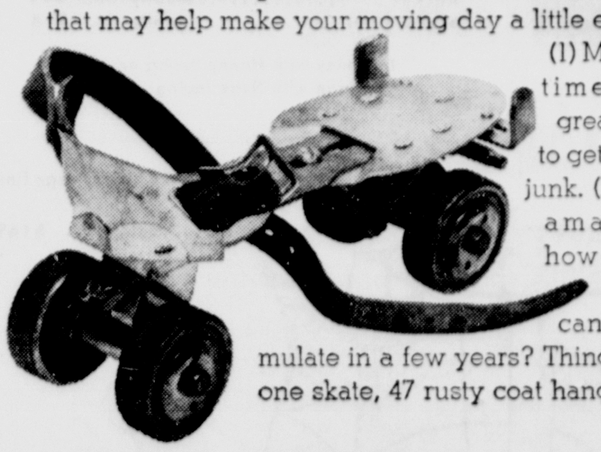
What is an estimate? How is it different from the final cost? An estimate is really only an educated guess at what your move will cost. It is made by a representative of the moving company who comes to your home and, by looking at your possessions, tries to determine the approximate cost of the move. These representatives are usually quite experienced and can make a pretty close guess. But, of course, it is impossible to know exactly what the move will cost until it is completed. When the representative of the moving company comes to make an estimate, be sure to show him everything you plan to move (don't forget the 300-lb. trunk in the garage, for example). He can't give you a good estimate without your help.

What happens if something gets broken? Check the insurance coverage that moving companies give. You'll find that unless you make other arrangements, the standard liability set forth by federal and state commerce commissions is 30¢ per pound per item. This is not enough coverage for most of your possessions. So it's a good idea to ask your mover about additional coverage.

Should you do your own packing? If you have your possessions packed by the moving company it will cost you extra. Some people would rather do this work themselves and save the money. However, the packers from moving companies have more experience and better materials than you do. For these reasons, you should give a great deal of thought to having them pack your breakable possessions. Most of the better moving companies, for example, have cartons with individual "cell-like" compartments (something like a honeycomb). These compartments prevent one fragile item from touching another fragile item. In tests, cartons like this have been dropped from two-story windows, with no damage to the delicate contents.



What else should you know? Here are a few extra tips that may help make your moving day a little easier:



(1) Moving time is a great time to get rid of junk. (Isn't it amazing how much you can accumulate in a few years? Things like one skate, 47 rusty coat hangers, a bucket with a hole in it, and three pairs of trousers with 30-inch waists.) But remember: junk in your old home will be junk in your new home. So why pay to have it moved? Why not give anything you don't need to an organization like the Goodwill or Salvation Army?

(2) If you're planning to ship Bowser (or any of your pets), keep these things in mind: (a) Movers are not allowed to carry pets, so you'll have to ship them some other way. (b) Be sure the crates for your pets conform to the rules of the shippers. (c) Use direct flights or train trips. (d) Have a friend meet them at the other end.

(3) Sometimes the obvious can be overlooked. In the hustle and bustle of moving don't forget such everyday arrangements as giving the post office your forwarding address, or arranging to have utilities and phone service cut off at your old home and turned on at your new one.

(4) When you make a long distance move, be prepared to pay with something other than a personal check.

All moving companies require payment in cash, traveler's check, money order, or certified check when your furniture is delivered. Otherwise, they can't release your possessions.

How should you go about getting a moving company? Don't use the eenie, meenie, miney, moe method of choosing a mover.

Don't choose an "unknown."

The best way to make sure you get a good move is to choose a moving company with a good reputation. Ask your friends. Check with one of your neighbors who has moved recently.

You'll find that a reputable company has better equipment and better trained men. A reputable company will be more experienced and give your furniture more care. A reputable company will try to help you, not keep you in the dark.

WORK FOR STUDENT EXCHANGE—Believing that if you want something, you have to work for it, four Redwood High School students clean up yard and pool to earn money for the school's foreign student exchange programs. Many more will be working for the same purpose tomorrow — if they get jobs—in "Redwood International Work Day." From left in photo are John Croxall, Rob Abrams, Linda Kaplan and Mike Hauser.

Redwood Students To Work For School Foreign Program

Mowing lawns, cleaning pools, washing cars or windows, painting, weeding, babysitting, cleaning houses or garages are among the many jobs Redwood High School students are seeking for "Redwood International Work Day" tomorrow.

Students participating in the program will leave school one hour early and work, at $1 per hour, for two hours. Each must present $2 before being readmitted to school.

Proceeds will go toward the high school foreign student exchange programs. These include American Field Service, Experiment in International Living, School Affiliation Service, and Youth for Understanding. The last is new to the Larkspur school this year.

"We need help from the adult community so this program can contiune at the same scope," said Charles Wray, adviser for "Service Day."

Redwood's four programs provide the largest student exchange in any Marin high schools.

"To continue the present vaviety, we must have additional funds, which the students are willing to raise, if they receive jobs," said Wray.

Many students are still interested in working, but are unable to because of the lack of jobs," he said.

Helping the students to find jobs, and taking calls from people interested in hiring them, are Mrs. W. F. Hinkley of Kentfield, Mrs. Helen Schlichtmann of Greenbrae, Mrs. Robert L. Samilson of Belvedere, and Mrs. Robert M. Betette of Corte Madera.

No Divorce Decree Granted Mrs. Green

No divorce decree has been granted to Laura E. Green in her suit, filed recently in Reno against Blake L. Green of San Anselmo.

The suit was listed in last Thursday's Independent-Journal as a decree. This was in error.

Fairfax Leaders To Be Honored

Members of Fairfax Merchants Assn. have thought of a pleasant way to recognize the services of the unpaid civic officials of the town—they are going to give them a testimonial dinner.

It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Deer Park Villa, Fairfax.

Association president William T. Benson said the uncompensated work of their civic leaders seldom receives the expression of public appreciation they deserve. The merchants felt it was time they did something about it.

Among the 48 guests will be members of the Fairfax City Council, School Board, Planning Commission and Parks and Recreation Commission.

Republican Fund Director Named

Peter R. Johnson, Mill Valley attorney and investment broker, will head Republican fund-drive campaigns in Marin County for the 1966 elections.

Johnson was appointed finance director this week by Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee.

Rum Runner Special? No, Another Ship

The boat labelled "Rum Runner's Special" in a Monday's Independent-Journal was not that at all, according to a sharp-eyed Mill Valley reader.

Instead, Mrs. Frances W. Anderson of 534 Northern Avenue wrote in a letter the same day the picture appeared, the boat was the Queen, owned by long-time Inverness resident Brock C. Schreiber, who died last November at age 88.

Schreiber once used the craft to transport passengers from Point Reyes Station, where they got off the train, across the bay to Inverness.

Mrs. Anderson, whose maiden name was Whitney, owns part of Chicken Ranch Beach. She recognized Schreiber's wharf, shown in the picture, by the sign reading "launch for hire" on its side.

As far as Mrs. Anderson knows, the rotting hulk of the Queen is still there, although the picture may have been taken in the early 1940s.

Instead of being a former sub chaser, she said, the boat was one about half the size of sub chasers. It was, she recalls, one of the first built by a Stockton boat firm, Stephens Brothers.

While she is a former Inverness resident, it was Mrs. Anderson's husband, Jeremy R. Anderson, a boating enthusiast and friend of Schreiber's, who first recognized the boat in the photograph.

"He just doesn't like to write letters," she explained.

Mill Valley Meter Officer Resigns

William R. Davies, meter enforcement officer for the city of Mill Valley since last December, has resigned, effective May 11.

Davies, who lives at 1 Bayview Terrace, said he is quitting for salary reasons, to take a job as carpenter foreman. His city pay is $436 monthly; he said he will earn twice as much at his new job.

Brown Backs Bills To Help Farm Workers' Conditions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown called today for an end to the "deplorable" living conditions of farm workers.

"More than 80 per cent of farm worker families live in dwellings which violate standards of health, safety and comfort," Brown said.

Brown urged support for two bills designed to provide federal aid.

One bill, authored by state Senator Tomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, would create a State Department of Housing and Community Development.

The second bill, sponsored by Sens. Robert D. Williams, D-D-Williams, authorizes participation in an anti-poverty program.

FIRST MAIN GATE—This picture shows the first main gate at Hamilton Field. Just behind the gate can be seen the bridge over the railroad spur. The hill with the water tower has not changed much in the past 30 years, but the area around the gate is now covered with buildings. The gate has since been moved approximately one-half mile further west. (A. F. photo)

HAFB Named For World War I Hero

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles on the history of Hamilton Air Force Base, dedicated 30 years ago on May 12.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

With land obtained for an air field in North Marin, another controversy arose — over what to name it.

The secretary of war announced that the base was to be named in honor of Lt. Lloyd A. Hamilton, who was an Air Corps pilot killed in action during World War I.

Some Marin citizens were incensed at this. It was not that Lieutenant Hamilton should not be honored, but that he had no connection with either the Bay Area or California.

Rep. Florence P. Kahn, who sponsored the bill to get finances for the base, proposed that it be named "Derby Field" in honor of an East Bay pilot who was killed on a test flight in Dayton, Ohio.

The Army officials stuck to their guns, and Hamilton Field it became.

Lloyd Andrews Hamilton was born in Troy, N. Y., June 13, 1894. He enlisted in the Army on April 28, 1917 and received his pilot's officer commission in March, 1918. He was assigned to the French front in World War I with the British Third Aero Squadron.

He was the first American officer to fly with the Royal Flying Corps. He was also the first in his squadron of 150 men to shoot down an enemy aircraft.

Lieutenant Hamilton was later assigned to the 17th Aero Squadron, U.S. Army Air Service. He was killed Aug. 24, 1918, in a combat mission over enemy territory in Belgium. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross posthumously.

Capt. Howard B. Nurse was named to design and construct the new bomber base in April, 1931. He had just completed construction of the world's largest airport at Randolph Field, Austin, Tex.

LT. LLOYD A. HAMILTON
For whom the base was named

Captain Nurse showed no less than a touch of genius in designing Hamilton Field. He said his aim to build a base that not only would be the most functional, but also the most beautiful air base in the nation.

In so doing, he aimed to preserve as much of the natural beauty of the oak-studded hillsides as possible. In keeping with California tradition, he said he would construct the buildings in Spanish style.

Captain Nurse set up headquarters in the Marin County courthouse. From that office in San Rafael, he directed the first work on the base.

By the middle of 1932, excavation for buildings and streets was underway. The flight line area was being graded and a railroad spur into the base was under construction.

The new year of 1933 saw work started on the 200-man barracks, some officers and non-commissioned officers quarters, one hangar, a shop and paint warehouse.

However, not enough money had been appropriated by Congress to complete the base, which was to cost about five million dollars. Shortly after the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president, the public works program allotted $3,698,302 to Hamilton Field. By the end of that year, the weekly payroll had reached $30,000.

Col. Don L. Hutchins was named the first base commander on June 27, 1933.

By 1934, the base had reached such a stage of development that the Seventh Bombardment Group was scheduled to move onto the base. Its coming was anticipated by a detachment of service personnel from the 70th Service Squadron, transfered from March Field.

The field had already been used for gunnery practice starting Feb. 21, 1933, when a squadron from Crissy Field used it. The 93rd Observation Squadron from Crissy Field recorded an unusual problem in bombing practice at Hamilton. Hogs ate the targets before the squadron could use them.

On Dec. 1, 1934, a flight of 24 Martin B-12 bombers arrived from March Field, although not all the facilities were yet completed. Six more bombers arrived a day later. The remaining personnel came by train on Dec. 4.

With the arrival of this Seventh Bombardment Group of three squadrons, the base had a population of 89 officers and cadets, and 655 enlisted men. Maj. Clarence L. Tinker assumed command of the base.

Captain Nurse continued on constructing the base until May 19, 1935, when he was assigned to construct Hickam Field, Hawaii.

Hamilton was now launched on its career as an air base.

Shelley Says Commute Problem Is Pressing

The problem of handling the increase of Marin-San Francisco commuters must be solved soon by governments on both sides of the Golden Gate, Mayor John F. Shelley of San Francisco emphasized in a talk last night to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

"You're their mayors nights and weekends. I guess I'm their mayor during the day. It's a problem for all us," he said.

The San Francisco mayor stressed the inter-relationship of Marin and San Francisco problems in his address, which featured the council's meeting at Chez Dumont in San Anselmo, with the Hub City as host. He placed the transportation problem foremost.

The Golden Gate Freeway plan looks good for San Francisco, said Shelley, "But if they still wind up on the Golden Gate Bridge, they won't get to Marin County any faster."

Either a tube or a second bridge will take years to plan and build — and the time is pressing, he insisted.

Shelley put in a word for state parks in Marin, commenting, "One of the greatest things you have afforded us is the opportunity to get out in the open." But, he said, "I'm not going to tell you anything about Marincello. That's your problem."

The council again postponed appointment of a central cities representative on the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

The long-delayed appointment appeared likely for the May meeting, however. On motion of Councilman Charles W. Aby of San Rafael, the mayors of the cities involved were constituted a nominating committee to propose a representative. President Gordon W. Strawbridge, Tiburon mayor, announced he would call a committee meeting for some time next week to choose a nominee.

Three members of the county board of supervisors attended: chairman Peter H. Behr, Byron W. Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Six In Contest For Vacant Seat On School Board

San Rafael Group To Name Member At Monday's Session

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A six-way contest is under way for appointment to the San Rafael Board of Education position vacated by election of C. Paul Bettini as mayor.

Decision Day is Monday. At its meeting at 8 p.m. that day, the city council is scheduled to name the person to fill the two years remaining of Bettini's term.

In the race are two former candidates for the board plus four other persons, of whom three are women.

The former candidates are Laurence B. Thomas, labor-management arbitrator who failed of election April 12, and H. D. Sokoloff, architect who was an unsuccessful candidate in the election four years ago.

The other aspirants are housewives Anita C. (Mrs. Charles G.) Strom, Gladys C. (Mrs. L. C. Gilliland, and Elizabeth (Mrs. John M.) Douglas, and insurance agent Edward K. Wachsman.

Front runner at the moment appears to be Mrs. Strom.

A delegation appeared in her behalf at the council meeting of April 19. Two letters in her behalf, besides her own letter of application, have been filed with City Clerk W. C. Cornwell.

Only other application on file with the city clerk is that of Wachsman, a late entrant. Wachsman is a former member of the Marin County Planning Commission who was replaced by Harry Heifetz in the county board of supervisors' new "everybody resign" policy this year.

By far the most campaigning, however, has been for Mrs. Strom and for Thomas.

City councilmen report they have received numerous calls on behalf of both candidates — and a spate of calls also in opposition to Mrs. Strom while not advocating anyone else.

Proponents of Thomas' appointment have been circulating petitions, door to door, which presumably will be filed before Monday night's council meeting.

Some leading backers of Walter R. Castro Jr., and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., the new board members elected April 12, reportedly are supporting Sokoloff's candidacy.

Mrs. Strom has become a controversial figure in San Rafael school circles over the past few years.

She first gained wide notice as one of the leaders of a successful effort by parents of Coleman School children six years ago to prevent moving the upper grades of Coleman School to the San Rafael High School property.

She was a member of the curriculum committee appointed by the board of education four years ago as result, principally, of criticisms of the reading and social studies programs. When the commission wound up its study, she was among signers of a minority report critical of some of the curriculum and teaching methods.

More recently, she became embroiled in a long-drawn-out controversy as a result of her complaint about the books on a supplementary reading list in a high school course in American history. Because she found the list inadequate and suggested it could be improved, she was called a "book burner" and "John Bircher" by some teachers. One high school teacher made slighting references to her before his class. At one point, an American Civil Liberties Union representative appeared at a board of education meeting to object to "attempted censorship" of the book list, but the ACLU dropped its interest on further investigation.

Mrs. Strom's candidacy has the active support of a group of parents. And she is known to the city council members through her work on the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission, of which she has been a member for three years.

Principal backing of Thomas' candidacy seems to come from the same teachers who are most critical of Mrs. Strom. He reportedly also has the support of Mrs. Bella H. Aaron, who did not seek re-election this month on completing a term on the board of education.

Some Thomas backers have spread the word that "several members" of the board of education plan to resign if Mrs. Strom is appointed. There has been no confirmation of this from board members.

Councilmen have not committed themselves. A majority vote of the five-man council is necessary for appointment.

Mrs. Gilliland has attended many board of education meetings as liaison to the board for the San Rafael Council of Parents and Teachers. Her appointment is being urged, also, to give representation to the East San Rafael section which now has no member on the board. She lives in Glenwood.

Mrs. Douglas also has been active in Parent-Teacher Assn. work, is a former teacher, and had school board experience before moving to San Rafael. She reportedly has backing among teachers, particularly at San Rafael High School, as well as from some of the principal supporters of Castro and Kraemer in the election.

Sewer Problems Tracked Down

McPHERSON, Kan. (AP) — A little black box is keeping up with the condition of McPherson's sewers.

A light on the box flashes when some malfunction occurs in the city sewer system. Officials estimate the electronic device will save the city 100 man hours of work per month previously spent in tracking sewer problems.

Perfect Record For This Teacher

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Owen W. Allen, retiring after 42 years as a teacher in Arizona schools, set a good example for his students during his career.

In all that time he has never missed a day because of illness. Allen, an agriculture teacher at Glendale High School since 1935, attributes his attendance record to being born with good health, taking care of it and exercising regularly.

Two School Organization Aides Leaving

One member of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization resigned last night and the chairman announced his resignation effective next month.

Committee member Robert E. Rogers, whose term runs to the fall of 1966, handed in a written resignation.

Chairman Earl G. Marshall, of Novato, whose term ends this fall, announced he will resign at the close of the May 19 committee meeting.

Both men, veteran members of the committee, said they felt "new blood" is needed on the committee.

Rogers said that he had moved from Sausalito to Tiburon and he felt the Sausalito-Marin City area should have representation.

Committee members, who will appoint successors, agreed to consider volunteer applicants for the posts.

School boards will be notified of the vacancies and have a chance to make recommendations. The retiring committee members also may submit nominees.

Since Marshall is the only committee member from the Fifth Supervisorial District, one of the new members will have to be from that district to meet the requirement that there be a representative from each supervisorial district on the committee.

Edwin L. Blackmore of the county schools office explained that the terms end not at a specific date, but can end anywhere between Oct. 1 and Dec. 1.

Parker Wood is acting president of the Marin Historical Society.

Moonlighting By CHP Hit, Pay Hikes Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Randolph Collier wants less moonlighting by the California Highway Patrol and an end to using the state officers for controling student demonstrations and other non-traffic work.

At the same time, the Yreka Democrat stepped up his campaign to boost the strength of the patrol to 5,000 men and raise patrol salaries.

Collier took his case before his Senate finance subcommittee yesterday during a hearing on the patrol's request for a $47.7 million budget for 1965 - 66. He asked for:

1. Repeal ofth e mutual aid agreements permitting sheriffs and police chiefs to call on the patrol for assistance in special emergencies. The senator objected to the use of patrolmen at last winter's student demonstrations at the University of California at Berkeley.

2. A strict prohibition against patrolmen holding outside jobs which conflict with their official duties.

3. Salary increases ranging from 7.6 to 31.6 per cent, and costing $2.4 million.

4. Eventually adding 1,102 officers to the force at a cost of $13.8 million. But Collier indicated the subcommittee will slice this back to about 500 new positions for the immediate future. There are now about 2,800 patrolmen.

"I don't like moonlighting," Collier told the subcommittee. "How can a patrolman who drives a truck on the side be expected to pinch the boss' truck when he is on duty?"

Bradford Crittenden, patrol commissioner, replied that moonlighting isn't a serious problem. Only about 10 per cent of his men have outside jobs, he said.

Crittenden added that he recently issued an order against outside activity and was criticized by the California State Employees Association and the California Association of Highway Patrolmen.

Overtime, he said, has cut down on moonlighting.

"We'll have to have a conference with the lawyers and unions and cut out this moonlighting whether they like it or not," said Collier.

Peacock Gap's Past, Present, Future Told

More than 200 persons learned of the past, present and future of the Peacock Gap area last night at a meeting of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. at the clubhouse, according to William I. Pearson, secretary.

Speakers were Mrs. L. P. McNear, who told of the early history of the area; Samuel Wright Jr., who gave the history of its development, and Jerome Draper Jr. who outlined plans for future recreational development.

Cal-Vet Loan Plans Attacked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A charge that the Cal - Vet farm and home purchase funds would be exhausted within two years by the effects of two Assembly bills has fallen on deaf ears.

The bills, designed to extend loan limits, were attacked yesterday by Joseph M. Farber, state director of veterans affairs.

One bill, authored by Assemblyman Burt M. Henson, D-Ventura, would boost the maximum loan limit from $15,000 to $20,000. The other bill, presented by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, would abolish the maximum loan limit.

Briton Held By Russians

MOSCOW (UPI) — A British tourist in Russia has been picked up and detained by Communist police, a British Embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman identified the tourist as Gerald Brooke, about 26 years old.

Brooke's wife, Barbara, informed the embassy on Monday that ther husband had been detained while the couple was here on a 12-day tour together with a group of British language teachers.

The embassy said it had not been informed of the nature of the charges ugainst Brooke.

(In London, some British press reports speculated that Brooke had been picked up on espionage charges. A Foreign Office spokesman disclosed few details of the case, saying only that "a man named Brooke" had been arrested in Moscow.)

Elderly Woman Hurt In Fall From Truck

Winifred Connet, 74, of Santa Rosa fell out of the pick up truck her husband was driving as Walter L. Connet swerved it to avoid traffic ahead on Highway 101 near the Lincoln Avenue turnoff in San Rafael at 9:20 a.m. yesterday.

She was treated for abrasions at San Rafael General Hospital.

Unification Election Probe Left To Jury

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization decided last night to take no action on the handling of the April 20 unification election after hearing that the Marin County Grand Jury is investigating.

Committee member Jack L. Mengel moved that the committee notify the county supervisors of the concern about the handling of the election.

Robert Stannard, assistant secretary to the committee, who arrived late, explained that he was delayed because he and County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis were testifying before the Grand Jury on the election.

Committee member David D. Ring said a resolution from the committee "would be premature."

Mengel's motion resulted in a 4-4 tie vote with an abstention by Robert E. Rogers, and the matter was dropped. Mrs. Rulon E. Brown and Dr. John Hamren were absent.

Edwin L. Blackmore of the county schools office reported that a final canvass of the vote on the proposed unification of all districts in the Tamalpais High School District was 9,925 no to 8,485 yes. The vote on the bond leveling was 9,727 no and 8,691 yes.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas asked why the "no" total on unification varied from the unofficial returns of 10,003.

Stannard, who handled the election count for the county schools office, said the initial figures were phoned from precincts and the figures for the canvass came from tally sheets.

Scholarship Awarded To Tamalpais Senior

Elder, 18, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Lyn Elder of 271 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, was awarded the maximum four-year scholarship of $6,000. He was president of the senior class last semester.

Fagundes allegedly gave inadequate feed and care for livestock on three Marin County ranches.

Non-Extremist GOP Group Is Forming

By WAT TAKESHITA

California Republican League, founded four months ago as a "rallying point for reasonable, non - extremist Republicans," hopes to have 50,000 members by next March.

This prediction came yesterday from William P. Gray, 53, state president of the league, who toured Marin as part of a statewide membership drive.

If the prediction comes true, California Republican League will become the largest GOP endorsing organization in California.

Gray, a Pasadena lawyer and former president of the State Bar Assn., was accompanied by Mrs. Lee Sherry of Fairfax, vice chairman of the State Republican Central Committee, and Tally P. Matrangelo of Sausalito, chairman of the Marin chapter of the Republican League.

Caspar W. Weinberger, past state chairman of the Republican Central Committee, and Joseph Martin Jr., national committeeman from 1960 to 1964, joined Gray at a cocktail reception held in their honor last evening at Sabella's restaurant.

In the four months since its organization, the California Republican League has grown to an organization of 2,000 to 2,500 members, said Gray. "I'm an optimist," he added. "I anticipate of membership of 50,000 by endorsing time next March."

Gray announced that CRL hopes to hold its pre-primary endorsing convention sometime in March.

"We want to provide a rallying point for all Republicans of reasonable, non-extremist political thought," said Gray. "We want to attract Republicans who have been disenchanted or given up. We hope to re-kindle enthusiasm and nominate for governor a person who has the best chance of defeating the Democrats."

"I'm afraid that a candidate who represents the extreme right wing will go down to defeat again," Gray added.

Gray said Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher both would fit the description of what his group considers reasonable and non-extremist.

As for actor Ronald Reagan, Gray said he is not so sure because he has not met the actor and does not know precisely what Reagan's political philosophy is.

Gray declared his group does not want the support of the John Birch Society.

"On the other hand, we welcome any reasonable Republicans. But we do not intend to specifically try to woo members away from other groups; the decision will be theirs," said Gray.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both of San Rafael, are members of the league. The Marin chapter, headed by Mastrangelo, is one of 30 already organized.

Mastrangelo said he hopes to round up a nucleus membership of about 300 around which he build the Marin organization.

Contracts Let For Building At Quentin

Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco has been awarded a $381,000 contract for general work in constructing an inmate activity building at San Quentin Prison, the State Department of General Services announced yesterday.

Contract for mechanical work was awarded to Monterey Mechanical Co. of Oakland at $101,690, and that for electrical work to L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael at $40,743.

The state also awarded C. W. Roen Construction Co. of Danville a $181,313 contract to replace boilers and make electrical service modifications at the prison in connection with construction of the new building.

The inmate activity building will have basketball and handball courts; a boxing ring; volley ball, tennis and badminton activities, and wrestling and tumbling areas. It will also include equipment storage rooms, showers, and a small mezzanine for offices and special storage rooms.

Fire Board Postpones

There was no meeting last night of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District board because of lack of a quorum. Another meeting will be set, probably next week, to adopt a preliminary 1965-66 budget, said Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary.

South Viet Nam Troops Trying To Drive Reds Into China Sea

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops was trying today to drive a key Viet Cong unit in the Mekong River Delta into the South China Sea.

Government commanders claimed at least 86 guerrillas were killed and 34 captured in the opening phase of the operation in Kien Hoa Province yesterday. U.S. helicopter pilots caught about 60 Viet Cong trying to swim an estuary and machine-gunned them in the waters. The Americans estimated they killed about 40 of the swimmers.

Two Americans were killed in fighting elsewhere in the delta south of Saigon yesterday. At least 18 Viet Cong dead were reported in that engagement. The American deaths brought the toll of U.S. combat fatalities in Viet Nam to 353 since December 1961.

In the Kien Hoa operation, the government force attacked in landing craft from the sea and in helicopters, hoping to catch the Viet Cong in a pincer. The offensive was aimed at the extreme eastern edge of the Thanh Phu district 60 miles south of Saigon.

At Hoa Phuoc, a U.S. Marine patrol killed a Viet Cong guerrilla outside the Da Nang airbase today. A young American rifleman was hit in the thigh by a sniper bullet.

The patrol was carried out by Bravo Company of the 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marine Regiment, which suffered four wounded in a skirmish with guerrillas last Saturday.

The Marine operation today, carried out along a river and through this and other villages usually occupied by the Viet Cong, made contact twice with the enemy.

The main purpose of the patrol was to reconnoiter terrain.

Though the assignment of the Marine 9th Expeditionary Brigade to Da Nang originally was described as a security move for defense of the base, the Marine Corps commandant announced there he had told his men "to find the Viet Cong and kill them."

Dixie School Board Faces $250,000 Budget Increase

Trustees of the Dixie School District last night saw a recommended budget for fiscal 1956 of $2,016,294, or $251,968 over the current budget.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the biggest cause for increase is the proposed addition of 15 teachers next year. They are needed because average daily attendance, at 3,808 this year, is expected to go to 4,200 next year.

Also added in the budget proposed by Willis are a second school psychologist, another nurse and a part-time speech therapist.

Willis said the budget will necessitate a reduction of $50,000 in reserves.

Trustees discussed the budget for an hour and 45 minutes. They took no action on it but indicated that a finance committee will soon be appointed to study it.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Decided against acquisition of property at the west end of Manuel Freitas Boulevard for a school site.
2. Elected Earl Koehler chairman of the board, replacing Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., who resigned from the Dixie board to take a seat on the San Rafael Board of Education. Melvin Stidham was elected clerk.
3. Authorized a contract with Robert Scheirbeck, a recent Ford Foundation fellow studying at University of California at Los Angeles, to become principal of the new Dixie School at $11,791 a year.
4. Authorized an application for federal funds for a district guidance, counseling and testing program under the national defense education act. Total cost would be $8,169 with the district paying half.
5. Authorized a contract with Jack Danielson at $11,791 a year as the district's second psychologist.
6. Authorized a contract with Clark Matthiessen as a beginning teacher at $5,000 a year.

Inmates Indicted For Having Knives

Five indictments for possession of knives or sharp instruments were returned against San Quentin Prison inmates last night by the Marin County Grand Jury.

Indicted were Lloyd D. Watroba, Elroy Carr, D. W. Hawthorne, Kelly Andrews and David H. Collins.

Watroba allegedly had a knife April 10. He was convicted June 11, 1963, in Monterey County of passing worthless checks.

Carr, accused of having a knife April 5, was convicted May 24, 1963, in Los Angeles County of selling marijuana. Hawthorne, convicted Sept. 4, 1957, in San Francisco County for second degree murder, on April 11, 1960, in Monterey County for possession of a deadly weapon, and Sept. 23, 1964, in Marin County for possession of a knife, allegedly had a knife in his possession on April 6.

Andrews is accused of having a sharp instrument, also on April 6. He was convicted Oct. 13, 1961, in San Francisco County for petty theft with a prior conviction, and Nov. 27, 1962, in Monterey County for possession of a knife.

Collins, convicted Dec. 10, 1962, in Los Angeles County for possession of narcotics, allegedly had a sharp instrument April 5.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park at the prison said there had been no large roundup of the contraband weapons and that there was no apparent connection between discoveries of the knives and last Friday's fatal stabbing of textile factory foreman Ralph Canning.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said there were no new developments in investigation of the murder. Armando G. Sanchez, 33-year-old prisoner, was found with a knife near the scene of the killing, but has not been charged.

Last Defendant Sentenced In Heroin Smuggle Case

Frances Baeza, 44, last defendant to be sentenced in a ring that smuggled heroin into San Quentin Prison, today was given three years probation, fined $276, and forbidden to reenter Mexico where she was accused of obtaining the narcotic.

Sentencing was by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court. The Los Angeles woman had pleaded guilty to conspiracy to smuggle the heroin.

Joseph Matthew Herman, 57, of Mill Valley, earlier was fined $276 and placed on two years probation for the conspiracy. Jesus Gonzales, San Quentin prisoner, pleaded guilty to the same charge and judgment is pending.

Two other defendants, Horace Daniel Lenington, 28, and Robert Lujan, 38, both pleaded guilty to reduced misdemeanor charges of being present when narcotics were unlawfully used.

The ring smuggled about $3,000 worth of heroin inside prison walls from June through December of last year.

1967 Deadline Set To Integrate Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government today set the fall of 1967 as the target date for integration of all grades of a public school system in order for the system to qualify for federal aid.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 provides that all recipients of federal aid must carry on their activities in a nondiscriminatry manner.

Water Area Formation Bid Dropped

Application for approval of a 1,000-acre county waterworks district in upper Lucas Valley was withdrawn before the Marin County Local Agency formation Commission today.

Attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, reperesenting Kenny Burt and the Soares family, said the application might be filed again, but it appeared that some agreement for service had been reacheed with one of the county's two major water districts.

A meeting of representatives of the Marin Municipal Water District, North Marin County Water District and the commission will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civic Center. The session, to discuss water annexation and district problems, was prompted by the proposed Lucas Valley district.

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission also:

1. Agreed to recommend annexation of Adolph Schwindt's land on Novato Boulevard to the Novato Sanitary District without requiring that it also be annexed to the City of Novato. This was because annexation to the city would create an illegal "island" of 80 unincorporated acres within the city.

2. Approved three small annexations to the Novato Sanitary District which are already within the city, but postponed until May 13 the annexation asked by Robert Hune of 10 lots on Center Road to the sanitary district. The property is not in the city limits, and the commission wants to make city annexation a condition of sanitary district annexation.

Firemen Invite Public

The Mill Valley Fire Department will hold an open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 8 in honor of fire servicec day, Capt. Henry Pierroz said today.

Robert Becklund is president of the College of Marin Faculty Assn.

Low-Rent Units' Site Called Best Available

The proposed Santa Venetia site for 50 low-rent housing units for the elderly is not a perfect location, but it is the best now available.

This was the consensus of opinion expressed today by four speakers on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

The Marin County Housing Authority last Thursday voted to attempt to purchase the 2.18-acre site for an estimated $45,000 and build on it the first of 200 planned living units for Marin's elderly.

Speaking on today's program were Omar E. McNally, chairman of the county housing authority; Philip Ehrlich Jr., member of the authority; Richard Phenix, coordinator of the county's community services program, and Dr. Marjorie E. Belnap, chairman of the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee and member of the housing authority's advisory committee on low-rent housing.

Ehrlich said that, though he voted for the site, it has some drawbacks. He said the major fault was "the elderly, as a group, would be much happier living in the cities as a part of the community. They should avoid isolation and have access to people of all ages."

He listed as points in favor of the site its proximity to the civic center and shopping areas.

Erlich urged that the housing authority continue searching for a location for low-rent elderly housing within one of the cities.

He listed San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley as cities that are desirable locations.

McNally responded that there are three major difficulties encountered in trying to place low-rent housing projects within city limits: the city council must agree on it, the voters must agree to it, and land must be found that is cheap enough.

"The Santa Venetia site, if we can get it, is the best site available," he said. "It will be a project we can all be proud of."

The site is also being considered as location for a convalescent hospital.

Phenix agreed that it was the best available location for the project and said "it is not perfect, but if it were the land would probably be too expensive for our purposes."

Dr. Belnap reported rent in the project would run between $35 and $55 a month and said her committee was satisfied with the site.

"This is about as close to San Rafael as we ever hoped the site would get," she said.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday from a recording.

New Hub City Engineer On The Job

Charles R. Leitzell showed up for work at his new job of San Anselmo city engineer at 7:15 a.m. today, then felt a little sheepish about it.

"Ordinarily, I would be catching the Greyhound at 7:05," he explained.

A San Anselmo resident for seven years, and member of the city's planning commission for five, Leitzell was selected Tuesday as the city's new engineer and public works director, replacing Richard Sypher.

He said he was able to take over his new duties quickly because he had just wrapped up a project on his last job, for the San Francisco engineering firm of Sverdrup and Parcel and Associates.

As a planning commissioner, Leitzell has called for a street plan giving at least two routes of access to any part of the city, so that no homes can be cut off by an earthslide or a tree down during an emergency.

He said he intends to pursue that policy, if possible, and also to push for better streets on San Anselmo hillsides. He said the problem in the past in the city has been that hillside development has been on small parcels.

"It is difficult to ask a developer of one or two lots to do much in the way of off-site improvements to streets," he noted, "but we should have a plan so we will know where major collector streets will be needed before a developer comes to us with a subdivision plan."

Leitzell graduated in engineering from the University of California with special training in traffic and transportation work. He said his pay on his new job, $950 a month, will mean a slight cut, but the time and cost saved in commuting may make up the difference.

Pact Is Gaining On Tennis Lights

Neighbors of the Belvedere Tennis Club gave provisional approval to a compromise agreement with the club over its lighted tennis courts last night, after almost a year of controversy.

Members of the Hawthorne Terrace Property Owners Assn. agreed to the present level of illumination for the courts on Tiburon Boulevard, agreed to use of the lights to 10 p.m., and voted approval to the promise that the club would use its public address system only for tournaments, association president Geoffrey R. (Dick) Jones reported.

Still to be negotiated with the club are the nights on which the lights will be used, Jones said.

The association last July protested glare from the lights, which had been turned on in late June under a permit approved by the Marin County Planning Commission.

More meetings are scheduled between tennis club representatives and Hawthorne Terrace association members before the agreement is final, Jones said.

Toss Of Coin Decides Fire Election Outcome

A 50-cent piece went sailing into the air last night.

"Heads," called Henry V. Alvernaz.

It came up tails and Joseph F. Silveira won election to a three-year term on the Novato Fire District board.

Thus was broken the tie vote for the two men in the election eight days ago. Each got 460 votes to top a field of six contesting for the position.

After a special meeting Tuesday night to canvass the votes, and a conference yesterday with Richard V. Godino of the county counsel's office, the board learned that it had to break the tie by lot.

Directors chose to do it with a toss of a coin. Both candidates agreed.

Alvernaz said he was undecided whether to ask for a recount.

College Portable Classroom Low Bidder Named

Mobil rentals of Emeryville was low bidder yesterday to lease a portable classroom and office building to house the College of Marin data processing center.

The total list price by the firm on a lease-purchase arrangement was $70,514, but because of the complicated specifications written by the architect, each bid had 15 prices, depending on when the college wished to terminate the lease.

In the case of mobile rentals, the first year's rental would be $35,282.

Next low bid was from Viking Movable Classrooms, in Fremont, at $74,797.78. Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, bid $77,261, with the first year rental of $44,111.

The data processing center is to be used to teach use of computers to college students and to do data processing work for school districts now using the data processing equipment at the county Civic Center.

Corte Maderans Ask Canal Safety Changes

A crowd of parents appeared before the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission last night to demand new safety measures on canals near Neil Cummins School.

The commission made a pair of recommendations to the council for next fiscal year's budget. It recommended top priority to be given a fence along the Corte Madera High Canal from the Park Madera Shopping Center to the school. It also recommended culverting the Corte Madera Low Canal from the tot lot in the town park to near the end of the Pixley Avenue.

The fence was estimated to cost about $1,150, and the culvert about $3,050. Culverting the canals at all danger points would cost the town about $32,000, commissioners said.

The commission voted that two handball courts and two picnic areas, instead of one of each, should be installed at the town park, and that a miniature golf course and a shuffelboard court should be delated for the time being.

Inclusion of a sidewalk along the town park on Tamalpais Drive in the budget was also approved.

Prather Is 'Good' After Operation

Tamalpais High School Principal Robert H. Prather was reported in good condition today Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco after undergoing an emergency appendectomy last night.

Mrs. Prather said he had complained of not feeling well Tuesday and returned home to San Geronimo early from the high school's open house that night. He went to work yesterday, however.

He was admitted to the hospital late last night after surgery was performed in the emergency unit.

Bids Called On Several Water Jobs

The work will include replacing pipes on Redwood Drive, Woodacre; Corona Avenue, Lagunitas; Hillside and crest roads and Baywood Court, Fairfax; Vendola, Ash and Birch ways, Santa Venetia; Du Bois Street and Roberts Avenue, San Rafael; Bolinas Avenue and Park Drive, San Anselmo; Poplar Avenue, Ross; East Manor Drive, Mill Valley; Cardinal Court and Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, and Bayview Terrace, Alto.

The board agreed to hold a Special meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 12 for public discussion of whether to raise water rates or levy a property tax to finance a 10-year district expansion program.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Awarded a contract to Sun Iron Works, San Rafael, for installing pumps at the new pump stations Mc Near Drive, Sugar Loaf Hill, Manderly Road Channing Way. The firm bid $9,665, lowest of four bids.

2. Purchased 45 tapping sleeves from Mueller Co., San Francisco, for $2,346.29, lowest of four bids, and a supply of miscellaneous cast iron fittings from Tyler Pipe and Foundry Co., Tyler, Tex., for $7,555.39, lower of two bids.

3. Postponed hearing on annexation of Marinwood property of the Carmelite sisters until May 26.

Criticism Lurks At Session On W. Marin Master Plan

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Though Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs declared the West Marin Master Plan was not on trial at an information session last night, it appeared that some are preparing a case against it.

Fifty persons attended the meeting at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station to hear consultants Mary Summers and Daniel P. Coleman, who prepared the plan with Harold A. Summers.

It was the second time the plan had been shown in a public meeting in the area, but Dobbs said at the outset that the meeting was not to hear criticism—only to answer questions.

Criticism, he said, should be given the county planning commission when it holds its first public hearing on the plan May 17.

Clifford Conly Jr. of Marshall, a member of the Tomales Bay Assn., questioned the decision to show the main road serving the east side of Tomales Bay along the shoreline where it will cut off access and recreational use.

He urged location of a road along the ridge instead. This would provide a good view of the bay. Access could be provided by feeder roads down to the shore and the small communities, he suggested.

Coleman said the road would not follow the shoreline everywhere. It would pull back onto the hillsides to go around all the small settlements, such as Millerton Point, Marshall and Blakes Landing. He said a second road is indicated along the ridge.

Coleman also said the present road would serve the needs for many years to come and no change would likely be needed "in our lifetime."

Conly challenged this, asking why the master plan recommends state purchase of right of way.

Dobbs said "some parts of the plan are arguable."

Gordon K. Patterson of the park staff at Point Reyes National Seashore asked where all the trailers were going to park.

Mrs. Summers said that overnight trailer parking had been planned for recreational resort areas next to the park entrance north of Olema, as a secondary use.

In other words, she said, someone might plan a dude ranch with a trailer park as a secondary facility.

Elmer V. Williams, president of the Inverness Improvement Assn., wondered why motels should be placed in the Olema flood plain when there is probably enough room in Point Reyes Station for such development.

Coleman said that drainage problems should certainly be studied before there is development. He added that much of the area for motels near the park area is on hillside.

Some of the low land would become a nine-hole golf course, according to the plan.

Larry H. Marks Jr. of Novato, with property in West Marin, said he had just heard Secretary of Interior Stuart B. Udall declare that costs were so high that not all the peninsula could be purchased for the park.

"This will mean that great areas will open up for development," he said.

Dobbs said he interpreted Udall to be referring only to a "temporary setback."

David R. Baty asked if the half-acre maximum density meant consultants believed septic tanks to be a requirement in the plan.

Coleman said the demand for a central sewer system would change the economics and make it more difficult for development of large lots.

Indian Problem

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian Education Minister M. C. Chagla says he sees some truth in the barb that the nation's higher educational institutions "are intended to find out how many are unfit for higher education." Half the students in graduate school fail every year, he told parliament, and "Something must be wrong." He didn't go into another problem: lack of jobs for graduates.

But Fright Is For Real

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP)—Lewis Bass, a realtor, has learned to cop with almost any emergency, even those involving youngsters.

He got a call that a child was trapped somewhere inside the air-conditioning ducts at one of his office biuldings.

Bass rushed over and found the distraught father had pried the grill-covering from the air conditioning and was yelling encouragement to his small daughter.

Bass called the fire department, then began investigating.

He found the child two floors below. She was standing in front of the ducts, crying. And the sounds had carried upward, leading to the belief she was trapped.

NOVATO BUILDING SCENE SHOWS EXPANSION

The recently completed building of Locke Plumbing Co., on Sweetser Avenue, Novato, serves as a backdrop for the company's new fleet of five half-ton delivery trucks equipped for commercial, industrial and residential plumbing jobs. The Locke Building also provides new quarters for M and H Automotive and P-B Printers, while two-thirds of the second floor is occupied by the Novato Chamber of Commerce. The remainder of the second floor will be completed this summer and offered for lease.

G.M. Has A Fabulous Quarter

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors wrote a fabulous page in American business history yesterday, reporting the biggest profit ever made in a first quarter by any firm and overshadowing record earnings announced earlier by both Ford and Chrysler.

The $636-million profit topped the G.M. and U.S. industry's old first-quarter high of $536 million set last year. It also marked a new high for any quarter, surpassing the old mark of $602 million G.M. earned in the second quarter of 1964.

On Monday, Ford Motor Co., the second largest member of the automotive Big Three, reported record earnings of $208.8 million, a 39 per cent increase over the similar period in 1964.

Chrysler led off last week by announcing profits of $56.6 million, an increase of nearly $3 million over its old record of $53.8 set in the first quarter of 1964.

Union Earnings

LOS ANGELES—Union Oil Co. of California's earnings for the first quarter of 1965 were $19.5 million or 74 cents per share as compared with $16.6 million or 58 cents for the first quarter of 1964, an increase of 28 per cent in per share earnings, president Fred L. Hartley reported at the company's 75th annual shareholders meeting.

Blue Chips Are Weak At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today with some blue chips weak and a recovery by sulphur stocks. Trading was fairly active.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was up a couple of points and Pan American Sulphur recovered nearly a a point of big recent losses.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.5 million shares compared with 5.68 million yesterday.

Here was the picture toward the close:

Standard Oil (New Jersey) reacted severely to its decline in quarterly earnings and sank more than a point.

The top steelmakers showed no response to their rash of greatly improved profits. Fractional losses were shown by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem was unchanged.

Historic records for General Motors did nothing for GM stock which slid half a point. Ford was up a fraction, Chrysler firm.

General Electric rebounded with a gain exceeding a point. IBM rose 2, DuPont and Sears, Roebuck rose fractions. Caterpillar lost 1.

Cigarette stocks displayed a string of small fractional losses.

Merck and Xerox fell more than a point. U.S. Gypsum gained 1.

Sulphur stocks rebounded. Pan American Sulphur looked like the most active issue once again as it recouped more than a point of Wednesday's 6-point drop. Texas Gulf Sulphur ran up a point and a half in brisk dealings. Freeport Sulphur rose more than a point.

Avon Products sank more than a point, United Shoe nearly 2.

Landscape Firm Has Anniversary; Checks Due Judges Of Sculpture

A sixth anniversary for Marin Landscape Materials is being celebrated Saturday, May 1, by operator James W. Hazen, who, instead of lighting another candle to commemorate the occasion has gone out and bought a sixth truck to add to his fleet.

Hazen is now sole owner of this fast growing business, having bought out his partner Robert Tuckey two years ago. The company specializes in colored gravel, exposed aggregates and hard-to-get materials for yard and garden. Main plant is at Highway 101 and Atherton Avenue, Novato. There is also a production yard on Olive Avenue about a mile east of the freeway.

AND MAY DAY, Saturday, manager Frank Bosil of the Sausalito office of Bank of America will present a $1,000 check to judges of the sculpture exhibition which is being held during the month of May at the Marin County Civic Center. It is the bank's donation to the Frank Lloyd Wright Memorial Award, and will be passed on to the winning sculptor as a prize and purchase price of the first acquisition of the Marin Museum Assn.

BURTON C. GRANICHER of San Rafael has been appointed to the California Prune Advisory Board as its first advertising manager. He will headquarter in the San Francisco offices in the World Trade Center. Granicher recently took early retirement from the Los Angeles office of McCann-Erickson, Inc. in order to return to the Bay Area. He was with the firm 38 years — all except the last 18 months spent at the San Francisco office. He has specialized in food and beverage accounts.

CHARLES TUCKER of San Anselmo has joined the San Francisco marketing research and consulting firm CMCR, Inc. as a senior marketing analyst. He was formerly analyst with Crown-Zellerbach Corp. and has been with Ptak-Mueller Advertising in Phoenix and Phillips-Ramsey in San Diego.

CERTIFICATES in real estate have been awarded by University of California Extension to: Howard S. Dort of Novato, with Crocker Citizens National Bank's San Rafael regional loan office; Mrs. Helen Mulder of Sleepy Hollow, with Coldwell Banker and Co., San Rafael; Guy A. Reem Jr. of Tiburon, with Bryant, Johnson, Chamberlain Co., San Francisco mortgage bankers; William C. Sullivan of Fairfax, with Tamarin Realty Associates.

All except Robbins have memberships through their firms in the Marin County Real Estate Board.

MORTGAGE BRIEFS. John Hourihan of Marin Martgage Co. notes that effective May 1, FHA is increasing its commitment fee from $25 to $35. VA or CRV loan commitments will remain the same at $30. . . . Mason-McDuffie Co., according to the San Rafael office, is now administering 300 million dollars in mortgage loans from its 15 branch offices. Total is made up of about 17,000 mortgages on homes, farms and investment properties.

SALES HONORS. Elwood Frink and Irvin Sutley of Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Corte Madera qualified for the Chevrolet Legion of Leaders Club for selling over 100 cars in a year. They and their wives were feted at the yearly dinner dance last week. . . . Robert E. Rosser of Greenbrae, agent for Allstate Insurance Agencies in Novato, qualified for the company's Honor Ring. He and his wife will attend an early sales conference in New Orleans. . . . Edward J. Mitchell of Mill Valley has been awarded the Distinguished Salesman Award from the Sales and Executive Assn. of San Francisco. He led the Carl E. Johanson and Associates agency in nine different categories of life insurance.

MURAKAMI IS COMING; SLOW BOAT DUE MAY 5

On a slow boat to Chinatown, from Japan.

That's the most recent news about Masanori Murakami, the Japanese national who signed contracts with the San Francisco Giants and Nankai Hawks of Osaka and refused to play in the United States.

He's scheduled to leave Japan, now that the issue has been apparently settled, around May 5 to join the Giants, according to a report from Shigeru Niiyama, president of the Hawks team.

The Giants have assured the Hawks that the southpaw reliever will get his choice to play with either the Giants or Hawks in the 1966 season. But for this year, at least, it appears he'll be a Giant.

GIANTS INVADE DODGERVILLE

Cepeda Ready; Juan Vs. Don Tonight

Slugging first baseman Orlando Cepeda, ready to join the regular San Francisco batting order for the first time this season, probably will face the Dodgers' left-handed array in Los Angeles.

Right-hander Don Drysdale faces the Giants in tonight's opener but after him the Dodgers are expected to use Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres and Claude Osteen, all lefties.

With Cepeda limited to pinch hitting chores because of his ailing knee which underwent winter surgery, the Giants have moved Willie McCovey from left field to first base and installed Matty Alou in left. Both are left-handed swingers and doing well.

All four Giants-Dodgers games in Los Angeles this weekend will be televised to Northern California by KTVU, Channel 2. Tonight's game will start at 7:55 o'clock.

Little Matty, the 155-pounder from the Dominican Republic, has hit safely in all nine games which he has started, hit .400 and driven in the deciding runs in four of the seven San Francisco victories.

After he slammed a ninth inning homer to beat Philadelphia on Tuesday night, Matty drove in four runs with a triple and double yesterday in a 9-3 triumph.

"I'm ready to play, but where am I going to play?" asked Cepeda. "Matty is doing great and so is (Stretch) McCovey. There's no place for me."

He was joking and fully expects to bat his way back into the lineup.

Still, McCovey is batting .380 so Orlando may find himself platooned for the time being, playing just against left-handers.

More pressing a problem is the pitching. Juan Marichal (3-1) drew tonight's starting assignment.

"After that I just don't know yet," admitted Franks. "It depends on how the others come around. They've all worked this week. It might be Gaylord Perry in the second game. He worked only three innings on Tuesday night. It could be Bob Bolin."

Jack Sanford started against the Phils and after giving up three runs on two homers, he came out for a pinch hitter in the fourth. Ron Herbel finished up with a no-hit performance over five innings.

"Herbel more than likely will become one of our four starters now," said the manager. "It looks like the more work he gets, the better he is."

The right-hander worked in relief Sunday, Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon.

Asked why he decided not to use Cepeda against Philadelphia, Franks answered, "I can't take Matty out the way he has been playing. What would you do if you were Matty Alou and came to the ball park after hitting that homer and you're not playing? You'd want to quit.

"I'm sure Cepeda realizes this. I can't bench either of those kids (Alou or McCovey). I know Orlando is a good ball player, but how ready is he? He hasn't had a chance to show yet."

Terra Linda Blanks Novato On Two-Hitter, 1-0

Independent-Journal Sports

Beckley Is Hero; Troy Still Tops

Terra Linda junior Ed Beckley threw a two-hitter at the Novato Hornets yesterday and his teammates gave him one run in the sixth inning which was just enough as the Trojans won their fourth straight Marin Athletic League game, 1-0. The game was a makeup of an earlier postponement due to rain.

That one big run came in the bottom of the sixth inning. Second baseman Bill Hall walked and was sacrificed to second by John Forry. Then Novato pitcher Gary Fritz walked Gary Pike, putting runners on first and second. Next batter, junior right-fielder Fred Daniele, laced one between first and second for a single to drive in Hall.

Beckley, a righthander, was in trouble in most of the innings when Novato got runners on base, but he was able to pitch himself out of the jams. Novato left eight runners stranded on the basepaths, but Terra Linda left seven itself.

Beckley struck out nine Hornets and walked three, and Fritz, who went all the way on the mound in allowing only four hits, walked four and didn't register any strikeouts.

Terra Linda leads the league with a 4-0 mark.

Redwood Defeats Tam, 5-2

Redwood pounded out 12 hits to slap down Tamalpais High School's Indians yesterday, 5-2, in Larkspur. The win enabled the Giants to keep pace with the front-running Terra Linda Trojans in the win column.

The Giants, now 4-1 compared to 4-0 for Terra Linda, all had their batting eyes in the Marin Athletic League game. Every starting played found the hit column, with the exception of catcher Steve Dorinson. But his replacement in the fourth inning, Steve LeBeck, got a single to account for the backstop position.

Righthander Jim Garrett allowed seven hits, struck out seven and walked none. Losing pitcher Greg Tellis struck out three and walked four. Leading the Redwood batting attack were shortstop Don Roby with a two-run single and double, first baseman Jack Baglietto with a double and single, and Garrett with a double.

Garrett and Scott Murphy are the only two Redwood pitchers to see league action from the mound this year for the Giants, and each has completed each game started. After 40 innings, their combined earned run average is a low 1.05.

Word Of Encouragement: Giants Shaping Up Like 1962 Champs

CONNOLLY

You never heard so much beefing and explaining in your life until you have listened to some of the die-hard Giant fans rehash games played to date. In one breath they're condemning the whole kit and kaboodle as a one man pitching staff (Marichal) and a one man ball club (Mays). To hear them moaning and groaning at the unexpected downward plunge of the team, you'd think they'd "blown" the 1965 pennant already, after 13 games have been played out of a 162-game schedule.

Yep, it is a real panic-button-aggregation to be sure. And with, we might say, some justification, but nothing to match the roar of the head hunters.

"Why don't they scuttle the staff, recall the youngsters like Stanek, Garibaldi and Estelle and start building for the future?" is one of the principal squawks.

"Sanford is a six inning pitcher; Perry isn't going to make it; Bolin is for the birds; Hendley and Shaw and Herbel and Duffalo are too long developing to be worth the effort," are more choice quotes.

ALL THIS, mind you, because the club dropped three out of four games to the lowly Mets. Without attempting to make excuses for the ball club—they did look bad—Manager Franks didn't handle his pitchers any too sharply and the team as a unit wasted a lot of nice hits and a load of golden opportunities.

But there is certainly a silver lining in the dark clouds. The Giants are hitting like they did in 1962 when they won the pennant. The pitching, outside of Marichal, has been shabby but wouldn't you rather see 'em look bad now and have to fight to keep their jobs, than to start off great, and peter out in mid-season?

SURE YOU would. And that, let me add a word of encouragement, is the way the club is going to shape up. Right now there

11 Named To Run In Kentucky Derby

By KELSO STURGEON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Eleven-sharply-tuned 3-year-old colts, headed by the highly-regarded Bold Lad, were named today for the 91st Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

There was only one mild surprise as the trainers or their representatives trouped into the secretary's office to drop the names of their horses in the entry box.

With the sun shining and the prospects of a fast track for the big race Saturday, trainer F. J. Recio decided to keep Apply Core in the barn. He was hoping for a muddy track.

The entry box was closed shortly after Tom Rolfe from the Powhatan Stable of Ambassador Rayond Guest was made an official starter.

If all 11 go postward, the Derby will have a value of $154,500 with the winner earning $112,000. Of the total purse $25,000 has been earmarked for the second place finisher, $12,500 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Native Charger was the first official entry to be announced. Actually he was entered yesterday by trainer Ray Metcalf.

Then, in a period of 24 hours, came the names of Mr. Pak, Flag Raiser, Carpenter's Rule, Swift Ruler, Lucky Debonair, Hail to All, Narushua, Bold Lad, Dapper Dan and Tom Rolfe.

In the draw for post position Dapper Dan, Bold Lad's stablemate, drew No. 1. Bold Lad from Mrs. H.C. Phipps Wheatley Stable, and Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan are both trained by Bill Winfrey but under Kentucky racing rules they will run as separate betting interests.

Narusha, who likely will not start should the going turn up muddy, drew No. 2 with Bold Lad in the favorable No. 3 spot as the field breaks from the head of the stretch, one-quarter mile above the finish line on the one-mile track.

Outside of the trio in order will be Native Charger, Flag Raiser, Carpenter's Rule, Hail to All, Lucky Debonair, Tom Rolfe, Mr. Pak and Swift Ruler.

Wham, Wham—2 Slams Top Tars

College of Marin relief pitchers watched in horror yesterday as two Vallejo pinch hitters slugged grand slam home runs in one inning to wallop the Tars 14-8 in an non-conference game on the winners' field.

Marin starting hurler Jim Schmidt was pitching along in great fashion for the first seven innings, but tired in the eighth inning with one out. With bases loaded, coach Ed Grimm called in Park Smith to put out the fire. The score at that time was Marin 8, Vallejo 4.

At the plate was pinch hitter Bob Perruchon. He promptly emptied the bases with a powerful blast and the score was tied at 8-8. But it wasn't over yet.

Smith got in some more hot water and allowed another run before Chuck Overmeyer took his place on the mound. It was still the bottom of the eighth frame. Vallejo loaded the bases again and sent pinch hitter Dave Parsons to the plate. Pow! another grand slam, the second of the inning. When the inning was finally over, the score was Vallejo 14, Marin 8. And that's how it ended.

With bench strength like that, it's obvious why Vallejo has a very impressive 18-3 over-all win-loss record this season.

Shortstop Roger Schlecht and centerfielder John Oddetto led Marin's batting attack, each with two hits in four at bats. Also collecting singles for Marin were Bill Brody, Fred Mack, Joe Hebel, Mike Young, Ray Valconesi and Frank Dittle.

Next on the slate for Marin will be a crucial doubleheader against Shasta, Saturday starting at noon at Albert Field in San Rafael. Marin is 4-2 and Shasta 3-1, both trailing Golden Valley Conference leader Santa Rosa which is 5-1.

Line score of yesterday's game:

Marin	232 000 100 —	8	10 3
Vallejo	100 010 111x—14	9	3

Schmidt, Smith (8), Overmeyer (8) and Valconesi, Corbett (4), Abballo (6); McCaslin, Leachman (3) and Rogers, Brass (4), Wolf (7).

Longden's Worst Slump Has Ended

ALBANY (AP) — Jockey Johnny Longden, who has won more races than any other rider in horse racing, gets peeved when someone suggests he turn in his boots.

"What for? I've said for the past five years, and I will continue to repeat, that when I feel that I can't do justice to a horse, I will quit. But I can still do justice to a horse."

Longden proved himself yesterday by ending the worst slump in his 38 years in the saddle.

Johnny had experienced some real tough days at the Golden Gate Fields meet until yesterday. Spreading back to April 10, he had 57 straight losses.

Wednesday he got his 5,955th win in the sixth race, astride Azure Te.

To further prove he had regained his stride, the 58-year-old rider's horses finished third in the eighth and second in the ninth races yesterday.

Longden took a spill April 13 when his mount bolted at the starting gate, but he said the fall had no effect on his riding.

"It will break," he had predicted of his slump.

Matty And Jesus: Baseball's Hottest Brother Act

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The two brothers who flank Willie Mays in the San Francisco Giant outfield start swinging the bat the moment they leave the dugout.

This positive attitude toward hitting a baseball has kept both Matty and Jesus Alou over and around the .400 mark so far.

Matty, in the lineup only because Orlando Cepeda was slow to recover from an off-season knee operation, hit in the first nine games he appeared at the plate for an even .400 average through yesterday.

His bigger kid brother was hitting .404. But little Matty hits with more power. He got the winning hit in four of the first seven San Francisco victories.

"I'm hitting now like I always have," says the 26-year-old Matty. "I haven't changed my style."

The 5-foot-9, 155-pound lefthander has curbed a tendency to overswing and has joined the trend toward heavier bats by switching from 31 to 33 ounces.

The 6-foot-2, 190-pound Jesus has yet to walk this season. His ability to hit bad pitches drives opposing hurlers to distraction and makes it impossible for the fielders to play him the same way twice.

"I think I hit bad pitches sometimes better than good ones," says Jesus. "But I'm taking more pitches than last year."

"They don't take many, do they?" asks manager Herman Franks with a smile. "I don't tell them not to swing. No sir. Heck, I figure they'll learn the strike zone better as they go along."

After losing the Pacific Coast League batting title by one point at .323 in 1963, Jesus was called up from Tacoma. In one contest, all three Alou brothers played in the same San Francisco outfield. But Felipe was traded to Milwaukee before the next season.

Without Matty's late-season hitting, the Giants couldn't have won the National League pennant in 1962. But at the end of the next season, he wrote San Francisco club owner Horace Stoneham asking to be played or traded.

"Last year, I started pretty good, too," says Jesus. "But usually I start slowly."

"Me too," said Matty from the adjoining dressing cubicle at Candlestick Park. "Although in Triple-A ball once I got a good start."

Jesus hit .274 as a regular rookie in right-field last season, including six hits in one game. A severe spike injury to his leg cut him down late in the season.

The hottest brothers in baseball are concerned about the situation in their home country, the Dominican Republic, where their mother, two sisters and a non-baseball playing brother still live. But it hasn't affected their hitting.

"They're doing great," confirms Franks. "They played well all spring. You don't expect them to hit this well all year, but we'll take all we can get now."

Gibson A One-Man Mob For St. Louis

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Don't be surprised if Bob Gibson winds up with Gussie Busch's prize Clydesdales pulling the Anheuser-Busch beer wagon.

The St. Louis Cardinals have asked him to shoulder just about every other burden—and the wonder is that the 29-year old pitcher does seem to have the strength of one of Busch's magnificent steeds.

To say he's been carrying the whole Cardinal team is the understatement of the last seven months.

It was Gibson who scored the Cardinals' last two World Series victories over the New York Yankees and it is the same Gibson who has been responsible for three of their four wins this season. Is there a place in the record book for a pitcher who has scored five of a team's six victories in championship play over a seven-month span?

Gibson picked his teammates off the floor again last night with a brilliant three-hitter that produced a 5-0 decision over the Milwaukee Braves. Gibson allowed first-inning singles to Ty Cline and Lee Maye and then held the Braves hitless until Denis Menke singled in the ninth.

Without Gibson the Cardinals' fortunes would be as low as baseball enthusiasm in Milwaukee—once the attendance mecca of the majors.

A mere 1,324 fans, lowest in the Braves' Milwaukee history, turned out to see the Cardinals hand Wade Blasingame his second defeat. The Cardinals scored a run in the first inning on four walks and added two in the second on Tim McCarver's single, a walk, a sacrifice and Lou Brock's single. Brock also stole two bases to tie with Maury Wills for the National League lead with seven each.

The Pittsburgh pirates beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 2-0, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in 14 innings, the San Francisco Giants walloped the Philadelphia phillies, 9-3, and the Houston Astros defeated the New York Mets, 12-9, in other NL games.

Bob Veale pitched a three-hitter and struck out six for the Pirates, who snapped a six-game losing streak und dumped the Dodgers into second place behind the Reds. Donn Clendenon drove in both Pittsburgh runs in the eighth inning when he doubled after a double by Dick Schofield and an intentional walk to Roberto Clemente.

The Reds pulled out their 14-inning victory over the Cubs when Tommy Harper scored on a balk by Ernie Broglio, ending a game which saw Joey Jay come within four putouts of a no-hitter before Cub catcher Vic Roznovsky singled in the eighth. Jay lost his bid for a shutout when Billy Williams homered with two out in the ninth to match a fifth-inning homer by Deron Johnson. It was Johnson's fourth of the season.

Bob Aspromonte's run-scoring single was the key blow of a four-run sixth-inning rally which enabled the Astros to take a 10-8 lead over the Mets. Claude Raymond pitched three innings of hitless ball to close out the win for the Astros in an unruly scramble during which 11 pitchers saw action.

WHOA, CHARLEY O!—Kansas City A's infielder Ken Harrelson seems to be hanging on for dear life as he rides the team's mascot, Charley O., past the A's dugout prior to the game with the Yankees yesterday in New York. (AP Wirephoto)

ROBIN ROBERTS WITHIN REACH OF MAGIC GOAL

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The magic total of 300 lifetime victories and enrollment in one of baseball's most exclusive clubs has become a realistic goal for Robin Roberts.

Not this season, of course, but possibly toward the end of 1966 and probably if he can keep going into 1967. A long way off? Sure, but Warren Spahn was a year older than Roberts when he reached No. 273 and now the great left - hander is beginning to think about 400.

Roberts, 38, chalked up the 273rd triumph of a career that goes back ho 1948 when he pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-3 decision over the Washington Senators last night. It was his second victory of this season and a typical Roberts victory in that he yielded two home runs but was tapped for only five hits in all and walked only two batters.

Spahn, who now has 358 victories, reached No. 273 during the 1960 season when he was 39. Roberts, 273 victories place him in a 15th - place tie with former New York Yankee great Red Ruffing on the all-time win list.

The Orioles backed their veteran righthander with a barrage of three home runs that produced all their runs. Jackie Brandt soloed in the fifth and Jerry Adair followed a walk to Norm Siebern with a two-run homer and a 3-1 lead. In the sixth, Boog Powell doubled, Brooks Robinson walked and Johnny Orsino hit his third homer of the season.

Home runs by Frank Howard and Doug Camilli produced two Washington runs.

The Yankees beat the Kansas City A's 5-1, but lost the services of Roger Maris for perhaps three weeks, the Cleveland Indians clubbed the Minnesota Twins 9-3 and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Los Angeles Angels 5-4 in other AL games. Chicago and Boston were not scheduled.

Al Downing pitched a five-hitter and struck out six behind an eight-hit attack that included two-run doubles by Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard. Maris, however, suffered a pulled hamstring muscle in his right thigh making a spectacular seventh - inning catch of a drive by Bert Campaneris. Maris had doubled home the Yankees' fifth run.

Rocky Colavito and Max Alvis hit homers and Sonny Siebert pitched 7 2-3 innings of three-hit relief ball for the Indians, who dealt Minnesota's Jim Kaat his first loss of the season. Jimmie Hall hit his third and fourth homers and Bob Allison his third for the Twins. Six of the Indians' runs resulted from muffed fly balls by Cesar Tovar, Tony Oliva and Allison.

U.S. TOURNEY

Pro Netters Test New Rubber Court

NEW YORK (AP— Pancho Gonzales starts defense of his U.S. Indoor Tennis Championship tonight against 44-year-old Pancho Segura with the winner gaining the semifinal round.

Segura, now a teaching pro in Beverly Hills, Calif., was a spectator last night as the competition began on a new rubber court and he feels Gonzales will have a more than usual advantage for the match.

The floor, used by the touring pros for the first time in this tournament, won't provide enough true bounces, Segura claimed.

"I need good bounces to use my two-handed shot," the veteran Segura said. "The ball is slowing up a lot and not coming up the same way twice.

The court, which rolls out like a sheet of linoleum, is supposed to slow up the hard serve and smash of the pros and provide more ground strokes and better tennis, according to Earl (Butch) Buchholz, former U.S. Davis Cupper. Buchholz gained the quarter-finals last night by beating Mike Davies, ex-English Davis Cup star now from Los Angeles, 13-11, 6-2.

"I had trouble with the floor," Buchholz said. "It takes time to get used to it."

FORCED OFTEN

Buchholz was forced to rally often in the first set, once from love-40 in the 20th game.

Andrew Gimeno of Spain, seeded fourth, didn't appear to have any trouble as he beat Aussie Mal Anderson, 6-3, 6-3.

"We'll have to give it a long test before deciding on it," said Barry MacKay, a non-combatant who is acting as the touring group's administrator. "Gonzales' performance in singles on this court should give it a good test," he added. "He hit hard, used a lot of change of direction. He really moves."

Tonight's program will open Luis Ayala of Chile and Sam Giammalva of Houston. The winner will reach the quarters.

In a doubles semifinal match Wednesday night, Australia's Ken Rosewall and Anderson, beat Gonzales and Gimeno, 6-3, 11-13, 7-5.

TOURNEY OF CHAMPS

A New Game—'Nicklaus'

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The name of the game today is Jack Nicklaus, or so it seemed as 26 professional golfers fired away in the first round of the $75,000 Tournament of Champions.

The setting was the Desert Inn Country Club. The course, one of the better of the resort challenges according to the pros, measures 7,209 yards. Par is 36-36-72, and winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour and temperatures in the upper 80s were forecast.

The 25-year-old Nicklaus was a firm 5-2 favorite to retain his 1.000 batting average in the tournament. He has played it twice, won twice and is seeking his third in as many years.

The 72-hole event could hardly be considered a walk-over, however.

There is Arnold Palmer, the 1962 winner here, who has not won a tournament since the Oklahoma City Open May 18 last year.

There is Bill Casper, Jr., who three times has finished second, and two former winners, Sam Snead, 1961, and Mike Souchak, 1959.

There are also, as Nicklaus himself pointed out, such fellows as Tony Lema and Doug Sanders.

Nicklaus, fresh from his overwhelming victory in the recent Masters, had this observation:

"In my own mind I don't feel I should be favored. I haven't played in a tournament since the Masters two weeks ago, and if you lose two weeks in this kind of competition you can lose your sharpness and you tend to play sloppy."

The good - natured Nicklaus didn't say in so many words that his conquest in the Masters had left him overconfident, but it appears he is still floating a little high. It was his second win in the famed Augusta National Golf Club attraction in Georgia, and he noted:

"I want to win here, of course, but you've got to be hungry to play golf." He meant winning golf.

Palmer shot a 66 in a final practice round yesterday. Casper went 18 holes, but did not keep a score. Nicklaus had a 73, but said, "I was just fooling around."

Nicklaus was in agreement with most of the others — the Desert Inn course has been toughened, and the rough, in particular, is high and course.

"The main thing I'm worried about is to stay in the fairway," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus won with a 72-hole score of 279 last year and 273 the year before. He thinks 277 might do it this time. Casper's magic number was 280.

BULLPEN, CONTINUED

Giants Resemble The '62 Champs

is nobody sure of a regular pitching job in a starting role, outside of Marichal. That certainly means Manager Franks has much more leeway than a freshman pilot is expected to have.

From a peace loving, gentle, laughing soul, Herman the Franks became an arrogant, rough talking, irate manager after Sunday's ball games. Franks is as mad at himself as he is with the players. In trying to get his pitching rotation in order he overlooked the idleness bench story. And that right now is the headache that is going to bother him more before it gets better.

IN THESE stormy days of pitching, a manager shouldn't necessarily expect all his flingers to go the full nine inning route so early. Just because Juan Marichal can do it is no reason he should gamble with Gaylord Perry doing likewise.

Perry, had he been yanked in time, couldn't possibly have lost to the six inning runfest put on by the Mets, but he was kept in there to test his endurance powers when everybody in the ball park knew he wanted out of there three innings before the bombshell fell on him.

BOB BOLIN isn't ready, even though he looks ahead of his form of other seasons. His pin point control is way off and in resorting to his fast ball he furnished most of the power needed for the enemy to slap him down solidly, and often.

In my book the real trouble with the Giants isn't a mental condition but rather a physical setback from playing in the cold and too often so early in the season. Four games in one week both double headers, with the Mets here and in N. Y. is pretty silly when you figure the season has 162 games total.

And there is an old axiom in golf that when you play with a duffer you act like one. That, I think, is why the Giants looked so feeble.

BUT BEFORE singing the praises of Met rookies, most of whom will probably never be heard from again, take into consideration the Giant young players and give them a chance to get their sights fixed.

It's Just Another Race: Hartack

By KELSO STURGEON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack is impressed with Kentucky Derby favorite Bold Lad, but not enough to predict that the powerful colt will win Saturday's classic.

"I know he's a good horse and I couldn't help but be impressed by him?" Hartack said, "but he'll have to prove himself Saturday."

The combination of Bold Lad and Hartack, who has won this famous race four times in six tries, is expected to go postward as the 9-5 favorite Saturday.

Hartack said he wasn't a bit nervous about sitting on the favorite in the Derby, explaining that "it's just another race. One race means just as much to me as another."

No one ever has uncovered Hartack's secret for winning the Derby, but his appearance has been the kiss of death for the rest of the field the last three times he has ridden.

He won on Venetian Way in 1960, Decidedly in 1962 and Northern Dancer in 1964. He had no mounts in 1961 and 1963.

Hartack also won the Derby in 1957 with Iron Liege. He finished second on Fabius in 1956 and was 13th on Easy Spur in 1959. Hartack was to have ridden Tim Tam, who won the Derby in 1958, but the jockey broke his leg and lost the mount.

If 12 horses start in the 91st running of this first jewel of racing's Triple Crown, the race will have a gross value of $156,000 with $113,500 going to the winner, $25,000 to the second place horse, $12,500 to third and $5,000 to fourth.

Bold Lad's trainer, Bill Winfrey, said last year's 2-year-old champion from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, came out of Tuesday's Derby Trial "in fine shape — just the way he went into it.

"We'll now wait and see about the Derby — at least I know, and feel, that he's in shape for a top race," Winfrey said.

Hartack rode Bold Lad for the first time in the Trial, which the son of Bold Ruler won easily in the time of 1:35 1-5 for the mile.

Bold Lad is expected to get his major challenge from Florida Derby winner Native Charger, California campaigner Lucky Debonair, stretch running Hail to All, front running Flag Raiser and Tom Rolfe, who has won three of his four starts as a 3-year-old.

Other definite starters include Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, Mr. Pak, Dapper Dan, and Carpenter's Rule. The other two possibilities are Apple Core and Narushua.

Dapper Delegate, winner of the Louisiana Derby, was withdrawn from the race yesterday when he came down with a head cold and mild throat infection.

Churchill Downs also announced yesterday that Bold Lad and Dapper Dan, both trained by Winfrey, will not run as an entry in the Derby. A state racing rule bars an entry in a non-claiming race of thoroughbreds with separate owners even though they have the same trainer.

MR. BOXING'S ROOM FULL OF MEMORIES

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Nat Fleischer has moved training quarters south, 18 blocks downtown from his old camp in Madison Square Garden. The ring historian is bouncing around flicking jabs at his 78th birthday with only scorn for that kid Casey Stengel.

Fleischer's new spacious office of Ring Magazine and kindred publications is located within a block of the site of the new Madison Square Garden, due to be completed in 1967. But Nat couldn't wait. A young fellow has to look out for the future.

"The worst problem is what to keep," said Nat with the despair of every man whose wife has told him to clean out the attic — or else. "We have more pictures of boxers than any other organization and more complete files."

Fleischer popped from one room to another, brushing past ancient pictures, bronzed boxing gloves, silver ring bells, watches and belts. Belts most of all. Belts, belts and more belts.

Nat dug into a closet and pointed to some packages on the floor.

"There are five more championship belts we haven't given out yet," he said. "When we finish with them, counting Salvatore Burruni, the latest, we will have given out 213 belts. I started way back in 1922 with Jack Dempsey. It's kind of a Ring romance."

Fleischer has been cited by the governments of Italy, France and Thailand among others. But his real choice possession is a gold and silver antique belt dating back to the 39-round draw between John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell on the estate of Baron Rothschild at Chantilly, France, in 1888.

"It weighs 17 pounds," said Nat. "When Mitchell's son was killed in World War I, he presented it to the British War Museum for auction, and they got $1.2 million. I got it in 1926 for a bid about $6,000."

This intense little man who has written countless books of boxing history once was captain of City College's track team. He got his first newspaper job, reporting a track meet with Pratt Institute when the regular reporter from the old New York Press couldn't make it. That was 63 years ago.

"I might have been a chemical engineer," said Nat. "But I mixed the wrong solution at New York University and it exploded. I had been up all night, working on the Press, helping put out an edition on the sinking of the Titanic."

A man who throws around the names of kings, champions, the Titanic, his grand children is entitled to be heard.

"Don't give up hope for boxing," he said. "We're at the end of a cycle. All sports go through cycles. Boxing will come back if the promoters come up with new kids, new talent.

"The only way is to start with the amateurs and build back. You can't start at the top. The trouble is that everybody is in a hurry. Three fights, and they want the big money."

And how about the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston rematch? Who does Nat like?

U.S. Cagers Edge Russ In Overtime

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A ragged but lightning-fast team of U.S. All-Stars struck down the methodical U.S.S.R. national basketball team 78-73 in an overtime exhibition game last night.

The Russians came from five points behind with 3:34 to play in the regulation time and tied the score at 69-69. They pulled ahead at 71-69 on two free throws by Armenak Alachachyan, but Bill Buntin of Michigan and Rick Barry of Miami, Fla., took charge and put the game out of reach.

The Russians had dropped three of four games to a Western All-Star team, but this was an almost entirely different U.S. line-up.

IT'S EASY TO PICK THE WINNER

It's no hard job to pick out who was in front and who was behind the leaders in the first race at Garden State Park in New Jersey during Tuesday's rainstorm. Wayne Chambers (left) rode the winner, Empey Music, while jockey Raul Sterling, up on Press H, was behind the leaders, getting a little mud in the face. (AP Wirephoto)

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Boat Rides To Salmon Grounds Can Provide Quite A Nice View

STEVENS

Talking to a couple from Vallejo recently I was told that one of the reasons they liked to go out after salmon was the boat ride from inside the bay to the fishing grounds.

I mention this because most folks with whom I have talked are so impatient to get through the Golden Gate to the ocean and start fishing that they may overlook the sights and scenes going out and returning from a salmon trip. Actually the views of the cities, harbors, and homes far up on the hills are well worth viewing from the decks of the salmon boats.

ALONG THAT LINE, I am reminded that the boat "Bluefish," berthed at the Rodeo Marina, goes out after salmon on Saturdays, Sundays and most holidays. A fast boat, it is unsually on the fishing grounds at the same time as many of the boats from harbors much closer to the G.G. Bridge. Anglers from Marin and Sonoma counties can get to the Rodeo Marina as quickly or sooner than anglers from the East Bay regions.

For example, last Saturday The Bluefish boxed 29 salmon for 12 passengers; on Sunday the score was 37 salmon for 14 rods. Speaking of distance traveled to arrive at the Bluefish's berth at Rodeo, seven of the 14 passengers were from south country. Frank McKee from San Lorenzo, Clarence LaPlante, Ken Milroy, and George Kough were also from that part of the country. Mark McLelland was from San Leandro, and Howard Deitrich and Ralph Thomas were from Hayward.

The Duxbury Reef area still seems to furnish the hottest sport for salmon although some of the boat skippers are scouting other areas as I gather from listening to my Hallicrafter. Not all get limits, but the majority still do.

QUITE A FEW reports have come in anent the catching of sturgeon, but as Sid McMullin of Caruso's Sausalito Harbor remarked "Sturgeon catches are no longer exciting news." And there is very little news of striper catches in the local bays. There is, however, some encouraging news from the Delta Region, and real hot news of crappie angling in both Clear Lake and Berryessa. Some fair to good bluegill results and ditto catfish—especially night fishing for cats.

With Saturday the opening of the general trout season, it seems germane to remind one and all that they must have a fishing license AND A TROUT STAMP to protect themselves from inquisitive game wardens.

THE OVERALL glance on prospects of scenting the creel with freshly caught trout ranges from poor to fair and from good to excellent depending upon the streams or lakes you work.

I understand that the warm weather we have had the last few days has started the melting of the snow in many areas. Might make your favorite water murky and access roads slippery and muddy. Better check with someone on the ground for water conditions and with an Auto Club for road conditions, and that's it for today.

Chuvalo Has S.F. Offer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ranking heavyweight George Chuvalo of Canada has been offered $10,000 plus expenses to fight the new California champion Thad Spencer in San Francisco.

Matchmaker Bennie Ford wired the offer to the Canadian's manager, Irving Ungerman in Toronto.

Spencer, 32, of Pasadena, scored a one-sided 12-round victory Monday night over ranked Roger Rischer, the state champion the past nine years.

Although Spencer was unranked, his victory was expected to put him on next month's list. Rischer was rated the No.6 heavyweight contender by the World Boxing Association and No.7 by Ring Magazine.

Chuvalo, who was outpointed by Floyd Patterson in the WBA heavyweight eliminations, is ranked No. 2 by that body and No. 4 by Ring.

The San Rafael Swim Club will host its first AAU sanctioned meet this weekend in the new College of Marin pool.

Approximately 350 swimmers, representing clubs from all over northern California, will be trying for trophies, medals and ribbons in this Class B meet. The swimmers will range in age from 7 to 17.

It will be the first major competitive event at the Kentfield pool. It is a 25-yard collegiate sized pool with eight lanes.

Among the clubs entered will be San Rafael, Marin Pirates, Tamalpais Swim Club, Ann Curtis Swim Club and Hamilton Voo Doos, from Marin County, and other groups from as far away as Reno.

Marin County merchants have donated plenty of trophies. The winning team will get a trophy, as will first place winners in each of the age-group events. Second and third place winners will receive medals and fourth through sixth place winners will receive ribbons.

Action will start at 9:30 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

Silver Belt Races Ended Skiing Season In Spectacular Fashion

For most of us, it's time to store the ski gear in a safe place, and think of things like sailing, golf, swimming, tennis and even just sitting on the deck and enjoying the lovely Marin weather. The Silver Belt and Buddy Werner Memorial races at Sugar Bowl last weekend wound up the ski season in spectacular fashion.

THE SWISS MEN'S team had the top times, with the winner, Jakob Tischhauser, zipping down the steep course in 1:28.6. Cute Nancy Green of Canada won the women's division with a time of 1:36.8. After all the serious skiing was done, she peeled down to black stretch pants and tee shirt, topped by a bright red flannel knee-length nightshirt and peaked cap, and showed all the rest of the girls how to make distance in the Vanderbilt kangaroo jump.

For those lucky ones who can afford it, and who haven't had enough skiing this year, there's always the other side of the equator, where winter spends the summer. Members of the Far West Ski Association can sign up for a 23-day tour to Portillo, Chile.

High in the Andes, Portillo is scheduled to be the site of the 1966 World Skiing Championships. Temperatures range between 60 and 70 degrees in the daytime, with an average of 18 inches of powder on 100 inches of base, according to the chamber of commerce.

THE LUCKY GROUP takes off on Friday, July 9, returns July 31. Basic cost from San Francisco is $1,171.90. For more information, members can write the FWSA Ski Flight Office, Box 374, Hollywood, Cal.

For those not members of FWSA, Canadian Pacific Airlines offers a 16-day tour of South America, plus six days skiing at Portillo.

Closer to home, there's the ski-yachting regatta planned in Colorado for the Memorial Day weekend. Skiing events will be held in the morning and sailing in the warm breezes of the afternoons. Location is the Arapahoe Basin ski area and the newly formed Dillon Lake.

THERE WILL BE a men's and women's giant slalom, class races for everything from El Toros to Star boats, plus handicap and multi-hull classes. We understand that Warren Miller, ski photographer and Pacific Catamaran skipper, will be on hand. Skiers note: average snow depth in late May is about 100 inches.

The Denver Sailing Club is in charge, care of Bob Tatge, 10812 West 61st Ave., Arvada, Colorado.

Squaw Valley has its own race on Memorial Day, with a giant slalom, and on July 4 they will have a Mid-Summer Derby giant slalom.

PLANNERS WILL attend the Far West Ski Association Convention May 7, 8, 9 at the Cabana Hotel, Palo Alto, to iron out scheduling problems and figure out plus benefits for members next year. Alex Cushing of Squaw Valley will be the keynote speaker.

Redwood High seniors Tom Bly, Dirk Noyes, Donna Helwig and Jacqueline Mengel skiied at Alpine Meadows recently, with Alan and Joy Best of Kentfield. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mengel, with daughter Patty, 11, at their cabin at Donner Lake.

'The Demisole'

A new undergarment for girls of grammar school age is a camisole-type pullover called "the demisole".

Young mademoiselles will like the rib-cage covering top and matching panty. It is being shown in boucle-knit cotton trimmed with braid to make this undercover story a bright one.

Jon Robert

Dear Mother,

It's not easy, darling, choosing your Mother's Day gift from Jon Robert! So many dazzling choices one could make, so temptingly priced! Like this gold filled Hawthorne watch ring with its sparkling golden leaf cover, a fragile 19.50 plus tax.

I was quite taken with these worldly accessories of rich ostrich calf to tuck in your bag:

the roomy wallet (it has a coin purse too) is a mere 6.00; the cigarette case (plenty of room for king-size and matches, too) is 5.00; and neat little lighter to complete the ensemble, 3.50.

All above prices are plus federal tax, and well worth it. Then this gorgeous white raffia bag, yes, from Italy. Cleverly arranged for maximum space and yet not bulky. 20.00 plus tax. Maybe I could get the bag AND all the ostrich calf goodies above to put inside it . . .

You're sure to love these divine gold kid sandals, braided T strap affairs that make every ankle appear slim and Grecian fair, 6.00 only. The other "camp" boudoir and beach sandals Jon Robert has rounded up you'll just have to see!

Or would you fancy a box or two of Hanes chic sheers, 1.50 the pair? And this is just a bare handful of many, many gifts on hand at Jon Robert. Scarves, perfume, jewelry . . . an absolute profusion! How can I ever, ever decide!

Lawmaker Against Personal Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., asked his colleagues yesterday if they would like to answer such true-false questions as these in order to get a job in Congress:

I feel very guilty about my sins.

I like Westerns on television.

I am contented with my sex life.

I love my mother.

I sometimes think I failed in love.

Flirting is often a lot of fun.

This test, he said is a speech prepared for the House, was uncovered by House investigators in government files and is an example of the kind of psychological questionnaires some federal employees and job applicants have to take.

This particular test, he said, goes on for 300 questions "but question 221 really takes the cake." It asks, true or false:

I find answering these questions to be a rather unpleasant task.

"I guess if you answer true to that one, it makes you suspect," said Gallagher, a member of the House Government Operations Committee.

Gallagher contended that Americans' right to privacy is being assaulted by "electronic eavesdropping, mail checks, peepholes in work areas and restrooms, trash snooping and other equally alarming intrusions."

But, he contended, that instead of Uncle Sam being in the forefront of the fight against such privacy invasions, some U.S. agencies are among the chief offenders.

Annual Mussels Quarantine Set

Annual quarantine of mussels for human food goes into effect Saturday, according to Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director. It will remain until Oct. 31.

Merrill said mussels may be used for bait in this period, but must be broken open and put in containers marked, "Mussels may contain poison. Unfit for human food."

He also warned Californians to be cautious in preparing clams for summer meals. They should be thoroughly washed and only the white flesh should be eaten, he advised. The shellfish taken during the summer are likely to contain poison.

Carrier Boy Hurt In Jump

Daniel Allis, 14, of 19 Heather Way, Mill Valley, has been forced to take an unwanted vacation as an Independent-Journal carrier.

He began Sunday when he jumped from the loft of a barn while visiting friends near Sebastopol. Daniel's object was to land on a pile of mattresses. Instead, however, his left foot went between the mattresses and two ankle bones snapped.

After treatment at a Sebastopol hospital, he was taken to Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco, where he remained today.

Bard Festival Auditions Set

Auditions for all but two roles in the three plays scheduled for the fifth annual Marin Shakespeare Festival will be held at 2 p.m. May 8 and 9 at the Marin Art and Garden Center amphitheater, Ross.

Roles of Romeo and Juliet, from the play of that name, were filled earlier. Still open are all other parts in that play, plus those for "As You Like It" and "Henry IV, Part I."

Funds Sought For Scholarships

A direct mail campaign to raise funds for loans and scholarships for students has been launched by the College of Marin Foundation, with letters going to 5,000 county residents.

The appeal is part of a drive to raise $19,000 by June. Another part of the drive, a personal appeal for large contributions, was started earlier.

According to foundation president Theodore C. Wellman, funds will aid students both at the College of Marin and those transferring from the college to a four-year school.

Wellman added that about $7,000 has already been collected.

Students' 'Messiah' Record Sale Set

"The Messiah," as recorded by the Redwood High School choir last Christmas, will be on sale in the school's student store next week.

Location Recording Co. produced the record, which was requested by graduating seniors and choir members to "remember Redwood."

On one side of the recording is "The Messiah," and on the other side are traditional carols, including solos by seniors Ann Hughes and Donna Phares and junior Barbara Solo.

One of the most outstanding grant holders, both in accomplishments and physical proportions, was the huge and kindly Irishman, Don Timoteo Murphy, whose three Mexican land grants included what is now San Rafael and land to the north.

Watch Out For Swindlers Offering You 'Good Deals'

The advent of summer weather is usually accompanied by an influx of promoters with a hundred different ideas on home and garden improvement.

We hasten to emphasize that legitimate firms dealing in home improvement products, particularly if they have local roots, can be relied on to give the homeowner sound advice.

But there will always be others of the hit-run type, who will come into the county to make a fast buck with fast talk and fancy sales pitch.

The State Office of Consumer Counsel periodically reminds consumers to beware of swindlers who pose as door-to-door salesmen. That warning is timely now, as Marin homeowners turn their thoughts to tidying up the house, adding a rumpus room, or rejuvenating their garden.

News reports from throughout the country show that trusting Americans are fleeced almost every day by home improvement impostors.

An elderly woman in Detroit was talked into having her roof waterproofed for about $80. After an hour on the roof, they demanded and got $125 for the job. It was found to be worthless. The "special" spray was nothing more than cheap tar.

Another homeowner bought a load of humus from a gardener who was just "passing through." After he had "passed through" and was gone, the homeowner discovered he had bought sawdust liberally doused with old engine oil.

Sidings on homes by reputable contractors may be just the thing to brighten up the home and make it more durable. But sidings or repair jobs offered at "cost price" or at "a big discount for advertising purposes" should be taken with more than a grain of salt.

The consumer counsel's office gives tips on how to recognize a possible snow job: "When somebody tells you you can get something free, or can win a prize, or can earn easy extra money, this is the first clue that you may be dealing with a swindler."

When the "salesman" wants you to make up your mind right away because the offer will not be available tomorrow, that is the "dead giveaway."

Laws have been and are being devised to protect the consumer from the unscrupulous promoter.

However, the best protection against fraudulent operators is a wary public which refuses to be panicked into impulsive action and which ascertains the dependability of the salesman's firm before making cash deposits or signing contracts.

Johnson Running Into Divided Opinion On Viet Nam Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson likes to think he is expressing an American consensus when he does something. But he is running into some divided opinion on his policy in Viet Nam.

He is sensitive to criticism but he is being criticized on what is happening in Southeast Asia. Among the critics: Some students, some professors, some segments of the press, some members of Congress, particularly in his own Democratic Party.

BUT HE IS getting it from the Communists, too. Red China's premier, Chou En-lai, branded Johnson's call for "unconditional discussions" on Viet Nam a "plot." The Soviet Union says the United States is threatening Southeast Asia with "nuclear blackmail."

Recently Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggested a temporary halt in the U. S. bombing of North Viet Nam in an effort to encourage the Reds to negotiate.

After that members of Fulbright's committee staff said they got hundreds of letters and that 90 per cent of them supported his proposal.

BUT FORMER President Dwight D. Eisenhower fully supports Johnson, and so does former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Johnson has had vigorous support from the Senate's Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

This is a switch from what happened to President Harry Truman in the early days of the Korean War when it was going badly. Republicans were on his back. But in all this one point may get overlooked.

Johnson got a blank check from Congress last Aug. 7 to do what he is doing. At that time both houses approved a resolution giving the president approval in advance for any action he might take in the Southeast Asia crisis.

THE HOUSE voted 416 to 0 for this, the Senate 88 to 2. The two dissenters were Democrats, Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Ernest Gruening of Alaska. They are now two of his most persistent critics, particularly Morse.

Monday, Morse denounced American policy in Viet Nam, calling it "immoral and godless." He said Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara should have been removed long ago.

Gruening complains Johnson is being advised by warhawks and called the situation "hopeless."

THE JOHNSON administration, stinging under all this, is reacting. Monday, McNamara held a news conference to explain what is happening. Last week Rusk, in a speech, charged criticism of the U. S. policy with talking "nonsense."

The State Department says it is stepping up speech-making appearances by foreign policy officers to discuss Viet Nam in response to mounting requests from around the country.

In all this some of the basic positions on both sides get lost. The Johnson position, put out by the State Department, goes like this:

THE PROBLEM is Communist aggression and the South Vietnamese asked American help; the United States will pull out when the Reds decide to leave their neighbors alone; to pull out before then would be throwing 14 million South Vietnamese to the mercy of communism.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tam Issue Equated To Huxley Warning

Editor, Independent-Journal:

More power to Marin County citizens who would not allow their vote to be judged unacceptable by an appointed board, and who would not sell their convictions for 30 pieces of their own silver. The outcome of the Tam district total unification election shows that the torch of freedom still flickers. . . .

I urge those who value their freedom, as well as those who feel that over-population requires over-organization, to read Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World Revisited," in which he names over-organization as the greatest enemy of freedom.

In his last chapter, entitled "What Can Be Done," he recommends return to smaller community living, even if that requires dividing cities into self-governing (as possible) districts. He believed that this could yet save us from becoming a de-personalized mass. We must never surrender the right to decide for ourselves.

Peninsula Key Is Work Of Many

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thank you for your most kind editorial of April 22 concerning "The Peninsula Key." The Reed District Parent-Teacher Club is proud to have been a part of this worthwhile effort setting up guide lines for the standards of the young people of our community.

Without the dedicated efforts of many people, this publication would have not been possible. Special credit should be given to Robert Gaw, principal of Del Mar Community Intermediate school, Rev. Lewellyn White of St. Stephens Episcopal church, Mrs. Diedre Lennihan and Raymond Delrich. . .

Another vote of thanks must go to the trustees of the Reed Union School District for underwriting the printing and mailing costs of the "Key" from part of the community services portion of the school district budget.

MRC Defends Its Stand

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your April 19 editorial, severely critical of the Marin Republican Council's I-J advertisement on Tamalpais unification. . . .

You claim that a partisan organization should not take a public stand on nonpartisan issues. We disagree.

Unification should be nonpartisan. But MRC's status as a partisan organization should not deprive it of its right to speak out on such issues when it becomes necessary.

The ad carefully disclaimed judgment on the "educational merits" of unification. It talked only of the abridgement of a person's voting rights by the $15 "bribe" provided by the Unruh Act, and the denial of the voters of any alternative proposal.

Should a partisan organization remain silent when it believes an election is less than fair and free? If so, then no partisan political group could protest the outright bribing of voters, or the denial of voting rights to Negro citizens.

If your editorial judgment is sound, partisan groups should not speak out on nonpartisan issues, including state-wide ballot propositions. Is this what you stand for?

Your editorial claims inconsistency between MRC's ad and its condemnation of Supervisors Leydecker and Storer for accepting leadership positions in the Democratic Party.

We believe there is a world of difference between a partisan group announcing a position on a nonpartisan issue and the situation where men elected and paid to serve in nonpartisan office accept partisan posts after being elected.

Now, what about the I-J? Where was your editorial writer when the Democrats urged the governor to appoint certain named people to supervisorial vacancies in Marin?

Where was the I-J when Supervisors Leydecker and Storer accepted their partisan appointments?

Where was the I-J last fall when numerous partisan organizations announced positions on a variety of state-wide propositions?

And finally, where was the I-J on the Tamalpais unification issue itself?

PAUL R. HAERLE, President
Marin Republican Council

Negro Treatment And Own Behavior

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I agree with you that Negroes should be given fair treatment in the matter of employment. . . . I think we are beginning to realize that to have large numbers of people who are not self-supporting is a drag on our whole economy.

Most businesses operate on such a small margin of profit they don't have much room for dead weight. . . . I am sure that if Negroes in general had a reputation for being industrious, neat and reliable they would be sought after and preferred by many employers. . . .

I do not believe in catering to Negroes, giving them favored treatment, especially those who do not want to make any effort to help themselves. John Kennedy had the right idea—that Negroes should earn their equality. I believe it is their own hatred, resentment prejudice and guilt that generally puts them in an unfavorable light. . . .

Many Negroes could improve their own standards if they wanted to make the effort. The fact that some of them do proves this. . . .

Some Negro families get along well in white neighborhoods. In fact, such a family lives in my own neighborhood. They are well liked by everyone and considered to be good neighbors.

People such as these deserve a double pat on the back. When they are trying to do the right thing they deserve every encouragement. It is twice as hard for them to get along in a way that is normal for us because they first have to overcome a tremendous amount of prejudice.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

HIT-RUN DRIVER KILLS OWN SON

A motorist was sentenced to five years in prison not long ago for causing the death of his 12-year-old son in a hit-run accident.

The boy was struck by an automobile as he was riding his bicycle home. The driver of the car did not stop to see what damage he had caused.

When finally arrested while hiding in the attic of his house, the 37-year-old man was horrified to learn that the victim was his own son.

After pleading guilty to charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident, the grief-stricken motorist heard the court sentence him to jail for five years.

It is rare that a father's neglect is responsible for the death of his own child. But anyone who is careless about the life of another human being is courting disaster for someone.

Think, talk, act and also drive in a manner that shows that you respect the God-given rights of every person and you will be a force for good, not harm.

"You shall not kill." (Exodus 20:13)

Deepen in me, O Holy Spirit, a healthy esteem for the rights of all men.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bagley Transit Bill Not Good For Private Enterprise Buses

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The problem of public entities operating businesses in competition with private enterprise is one which comes before the State Legislature at almost every session.

This year is no exception, with two bills before the Assembly designed to put two transit districts in the charter bus business.

THE FIRST is AB 2478, by Assemblyman F. Douglas Ferrell, D-Los Angeles, which would allow the Metropolitan Transit District help run private enterprise out of business, and the second is AB 2737, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, a measure affecting the Marin County transit district.

It is understandable that various transit districts would like to have their franchises include the right to engage in the charter bus business, particularly those which want to show at least a "break even" ledger sheet. Few transit districts operate in the black, with the result that they are subsidized by the taxpayers of the district to maintain a needed transportation service.

The difference between regular transportation as provided by the districts and the charter bus service some of them seek to engage in is that private enterprise does not engage in regular transportation activities, but is actively engaged in furnishing equipment for charter services. Thus the two fields, while using substantially the same type of equipment, are two separate lines of business.

THE STATE has been reasonably meticulous in the past about keeping away from the fields of private enterprise. For instance, San Quentin Prison operates a furniture factory, but none of the products of this establishment go on the open market. The state itself is the only customer.

Even in the field of agriculture, when the state operated a farm and a cannery, the only customers were state institutions.

So keeping the state out of the charter bus business is nothing new or unusual. The districts seeking to engage in the business obtain their authority for operations from the State Legislature and, consequently, may be termed a state operation.

GOING INTO the charter bus business would be something like public entities opening up grocery stores or other retail establishments. When the needs are filled by private enterprise, there appears to be no good reason for the public activity to compete with its own citizens.

The state, cities and counties collect no taxes from the publicly operated transit system. They do collect from the private charter lines, which are buyers of equipment and employers of hundreds of people whose jobs would be jeopardized in the event the lines were forced to meet public, tax-subsidized competition.

There appears to be not a great deal of danger that either the Ferrell bill or the Bagley bill will get very far in the State Legislature. The same type of measure was tried two years ago and wound up in the wastebasket after responsible legislators had opportunity to digest just what such measures would do to the economy.

ONE OF THE most promising new congressmen in Washington these days is California's John Tunney, son of the ex-heavyweight champ, Gene Tunney. While campaigning at a street corner in the desert metropolis of El Centro in 118-degree heat, young Tunney had a valuable piece of advice whispered to him by a well-wisher of 75. "Son," was the message, "you'd better finish up your speech in some air-conditioned building. Nobody in this town is going to vote for a darn fool who campaigns outdoors on a day like this!"

A MAGAZINE offered a prize to the reader who came up with the best way to hold a wife. An entry that unfortunately was not awarded first place came from a subscriber in a state penitentiary. It read, "I found the best way was around the neck, but the operation should not be overdone. Please note change of address."

Reds Try To Split South Viet Nam Road

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—If the best U. S. intelligence can be trusted, the strange noises emanating from Hanoi and Peking can be compared to the underground rumblings that sometimes precede great landscape-changing earthquakes.

The Communist Viet Cong "main force"—organized and trained as formal tactical units—are being regrouped south of the big U. S. air base at Da Nang to launch a drive to split South Viet Nam.

FIFTEEN OR more battalions, many equipped with North Vietnamese-led heavy weapons units of recoilless rifles and mortars, have been identified in Quangnam and Quangngai provinces.

These "elite" Communist forces are expected to spearhead the drive to split South Viet Nam in two from Laos to the South China Sea coastline. The strategy is to close the north-south Highway 1, cutting off the Da Nang air base from Saigon, where the U. S. military command is located.

This ominous threat is the reason behind President Lyndon B. Johnson's emergency decision to increase American forces in South Viet Nam.

HE HAS APPROVED the commitment of the equivalent of another U. S. Army combat division to Viet Nam the next few weeks in a desperate effort to block the Communist tactical move.

If necessary, these troops (approximately 20,000) will go directly into combat in a major U. S. effort to blunt the new Communist offensive and avoid a land encirclement of the strategic Da Nang air base.

A division of South Viet Nam by the Reds would mean that the air base and its Third Division Marine defenders could be supplied only by sea, requiring a major naval operation. By moving in anti-aircraft guns, the Communists might even be able to "neutralize" the base and its several hundred U. S. and South Vietnamese aircraft.

The seriousness of the situation is indicated by the briefing one high-ranking military officer gave a group of congressmen.

"YOU WOULD think we were fighting an Indian war, the way the Marines are being forced to defend 'Fort' Da Nang," he said. "The political controls are so tight that the Marines must keep Washington advised of all patrols outside their defense perimeter. It reminds you of Custer's last stand. The Marines were never trained to fight that kind of war."

While the Communists are expected to launch probing actions against the Da Nang defenses, reports from Saigon indicate that Viet Cong shock troops will avoid a head-on clash with the tough Marines until they succeed in cutting South Viet Nam in two.

If that should happen, Ho Chi Minh is expected to accept President Johnson's offer of "unconditional discussions" and bring Viet Cong officials as part of his delegation.

WHEN HE VISITED Washington last month, Ambassador Maxwell Taylor made an advance payment on a new luxury apartment in a swank residential area of the capital. The apartment is scheduled to be ready by fall, raising speculation that Taylor may be shifted from Saigon to a high-level job in Washington.

The American Conservative Union, formed to provide leadership and influence U. S. public opinion, is urging President Johnson to set up a "Liberation Committee" for North Viet Nam. It proposes that "the U. S. should allow the setting up in South Viet Nam of a Liberation Committee for North Viet Nam which could enlist guerrillas for activity in North Viet Nam.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

East Of Highway Corte Madera Is Flexing Political Muscles

THAT SECTION of Corte Madera east of Highway 101 has been flexing its political muscles during the past few weeks.

The area includes about half the population of the town, and a sizable portion of the population of the Larkspur School District, although some of the residents live in the Reed Union School District.

It was the vote in that area which killed the six-cent recreation tax measure for the town, and which turned down unification in the Larkspur district.

IT WAS ALSO that area which elected Howard C. Harvey and defeated Jack L. Mengel on the Larkspur School District board. Harvey would have run last in the five-man race had it not been for the "friends and neighbors" vote in his own area.

That group of relatively new subdivision and relatively new county residents, mostly with commuter families, is also blessed with the highest tax rate in Marin County. Both Reed and Larkspur school districts levy among the highest taxes in Marin.

Both districts also last year instituted the seventh and eighth grade override taxes. These overrides are school taxes which may be levied without voter approval to pay for the extra costs of education of seventh and eighth graders above costs in other grades.

THERE IS NO LIMIT to this override provision, which passed the State Legislature a year ago by a parliamentary fluke. Other districts in Marin, so far, have avoided the tax, although recent unification election results may make some districts resort to the revenue source.

Still, Kentfield School District Supt. Howard C. Harmon has said that his board is unlikely to use the special override, in spite of defeat of a tax increase election, "because the board members feel imposing such a tax is immoral."

Actually, Mengel's demise in the district may date back to two years ago.

AT THE BUDGET session in 1963, the school board, by a 3-2 vote, approved a $2,000 annual pay increase for Supt. Milton S. Cohen. Teachers' salaries were also raised. Bus service was killed. A tax and bond issue had just been defeated in the district.

At that time the opposition was led by Trustee Curtis P. Kamai, a resident of Corte Madera east of the highway. Now he is about to be joined by Harvey, giving that section of the district unusual power on the board.

The election was held last week just after residents paid their property and income taxes, and sentiment was high for economy in government. Pressure can be expected to hold the line on budgets.

Meanwhile, the next step, politically, will be the Corte Madera Town Council, with an election next year. The east part of the town might easily end up with complete political control.

OF COURSE, there is a chance that Larkspur and Corte Madera will have merged into one city by then, but that chance is slim.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

New proposal to build wings in front of the county courthouse in San Rafael with private capital was made to the board of supervisors by a group of local businessmen.

A prankster rigged up a garden hose at a Tiburon home in such a way that water squirted the owner in the face when he opened the front door.

20 YEARS AGO

Heavy grading equipment was assigned by state highway engineers to a rush job on the Waldo approach to "step back" the high bluff just below the "big fill" back of the dormitories in Sausalito to prevent an earth and rock slide which might possibly close the Golden Gate Bridge approach. Heavy rains recently soaked the hillside and a large crack developed.

Water Safety Poster Contest Winners Named

Redwood High School posted almost a clean sweep of awards and citations in a water safety poster contest sponsored by the Marin County Sheriff's Marine Patrol, it was announced today.

First, second and third place awards went to Redwood students Jim Lazarus, Ross; Allyson Ward, Mill Valley, and Donna Markosky, Corte Madera, respectively, contest chairman Harold A. Kalkwarf said.

Fourteen of 15 honorable mention citations went to Redwood students. Lynn Reavell of Marin Catholic High School took the remaining citation.

The awards, to be presented next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the courthouse in San Rafael, include a $50 savings bond for first prize and $25 bonds for second and third.

Cast Of Characters Changes, But D.C. Play Just The Same

WASHINGTON, D. C. — I've visited here many a time, but after a lapse of six years at first the city seemed strange. It wasn't only that the cherry blossoms were late and that some ancient landmarks had given way to new buildings, but some well-remembered friends had been submerged in the Johnson flood.

But after a day of making the rounds I remembered the wise old French adage, "The more things seem to change, the more they remain the same." The faces are different and so is the phraseology, but the basic spirit of the molders of the Great Society is that of the men who fashioned the New Deal. The latter alchemists, too, beat their breasts as they publicly called for an end to petty politics while privately following every pragmatic precept laid down by Machiavelli.

FDR, TOO, believed any problem could be solved by legislation: During the memorable 100 days his lieutenants introduced bills with the injunction that not a sacred word could be changed—and a "ja" Congress passed them all, often without reading them. (There are turncoats among his old intimates who have written that even FDR didn't read them all.)

Anything went — provided a good man who believed in Roosevelt suggested it. Professor Tugwell had a vision one night of founding a colony in New Jersey for garment workers, an idyllic paradise where union members at the end of the day might find surcease from the glare of the city and discover tranquility and meaning in nature's more restful green.

The appropriation came pronto, and the project had the blessing — which meant the votes, too—of the union. Cottages were built and trees planted and finally the first settlers came, posing for photographs and giving interviews testifying to the miracle.

BUT, ALAS, the workers soon missed the neighborliness of the tenements, and the evening songs of the birds could not compete with music of the city traffic noises that had lulled them to sleep. And in no time at all the colony became a ghost town.

And there was Harold Ickes. He was the first official to bug the rooms and phones of his subordinates, and he had a sterling defense when his extra ear was uncovered: He didn't want anyone working for him who was "disloyal" to his policies.

And when some began to criticize the doubling of the national debt by an administration which had campaigned against debt and taxes, Ickes wrote a magazine piece about the stupidity of such criticism: It was like a millionaire worrying about his telephone bill. We had oil and precious minerals in the ground of value beyond the dreams of avarice. Which was true, except that he neglected to mention it would take risk capital and labor to make our priceless natural resources bring in a thin dime. Just lying there, it did not enrich the Indians noticeably.

AND THEN, of course, there was that whole list of "alphabet soup" organizations—WPA, PWA and all the rest that covered almost every aspect of life, including culture. There was the Federal Theater which, to its credit, produced Orson Welles. But it also produced a show which set some kind of record by rehearsing for some 18 months and then running about 18 days.

All these projects, like President Johnson's, were dedicated to the proposition that by sharing the wealth you did away with poverty. But hte record is clear that this evening-up process winds up only in sharing the poverty.
as the president proudly announced that there was a drop in unemployment, an anti-poverty official described the coupon plan which permits the underprivileged to buy $1 worth of groceries for 70 cents, the other 30 cents coming from the "government" — which means the overprivileged breadwinner pays $1 for the same food plus the taxes for the underprivileged: $1.30 in all.

I MUST CONFESS I thought FDR was a wastrel: For he threw millions away and at the end of eight years there were just as many unemployed as there were when he came to power. But this new crop of experts thinks big—in billions, which it is sure will do the trick. And as we go over Niagara Falls in a barrel I can only hope that, for once, the big planners are right and the record books wrong.

Variety Show Not Linked To Magazine Soliciting

The Marin Police Athletic League's benefit show to be given Aug. 6 and 7 at the College of Marin has nothing to do with a law enforcement magazine which is soliciting for advertising in Marin County, Herbert Smith, Marin PAL president, said today.

Saying he would like to set the record straight, Smith explained that the league is made up of officers from law enforcement agencies in the county, except the city of Novato.

Police officers donate off-duty time to work with youngsters i organized sports, act as coache and transport children to an from games.

"Purchase of tickets guarantees no special privileges from police," Smith said, "but simply guarantees an evening of fine entertainment and the privilege helping children."

The show is being produced y the National Assn. of Old Time Variety Artists of San Francisco, which has an office in Mill Valley at 9 Bernard Street.

Junipers are actually red cedar trees.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, April 29, the 119th day of 1965 with 246 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Saturn and Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The Duke of Wellington, who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo, was born on this day in 1769.

On this day is history:

In 1862, New Orleans, gateway to the Mississippi River and once a stronghold of the Confederacy, fell to Union forces.

In 1913, Gideon Sundback of Hoboken, N.J., was granted a patent for the "sipper."

In 1945, the bodies of Italian dictator Mussolini and his companions, executed by partisans the day before, were hanged in a public square in Milan.

Also in 1945, American soldiers liberated 32-thousands Nazi prisoners at Dachau, the oldest and worst of the Nazi concentration camps.

A thought for the day—English poet Alfred Tennyson once said: "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Reliable Crystal Ball Not Needed For Game

The advantage of having a reliable crystal ball is that you can always tell when company is coming or whether the boss will show up at 8 o'clock in the morning.

You don't need supernatural help to tell which ace your partner holds.

Opening lead — ♠ 4

When this hand was played in the annual Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament a couple of months ago, the problem was to defeat the contract of three notrump.

TRIES FINESSE

West opens the four of spades to the ace. South tries a finesse with the jack on the spade return, losing to the queen. Back comes a spade to the king.

South goes after the diamonds, and East gets in with the king. Now East must return the right suit.

EXPERT SIGNAL

How does East know which ace his partner holds? In championship play, East should know; there is no need for him to guess.

The play of the first two tricks makes it clear that South has only the king of spades left. West can lead any of his three spades and South will still have to play the king.

Instead of picking a spade at random, West chooses a particular spade to show where his side strength is.

LOWEST SPADE

West would return his lowest spade, the deuce, if he had side strength in the lowest suit (clubs). In this case, West has side strength in the highest suit (hearts), and therefore West returns his highest spade (the eight) at the third trick.

When East takes the king of diamonds, he knows that he must lead a heart, and this lead defeats the contract.

Now, if the college students who worked this hand out correctly will work as hard on Integral Calculus, maybe we'll win the space race.

DAILY QUESTION

Use of electronic brains to keep vigil on the human brain in space was discussed at a recent symposium sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

Always show a five-card suit at the level of one rather than respond with one notrump.

Color Video New Weapon In Cold War

By GEORGE W. HERALD
Worldwide Press Service

VIENNA—A new type of cold war, in which France and Spain joined forces with the Soviet bloc against the rest of Europe and the United States, was evident during the recent meeting of CIRC here in Vienna.

CIRC is the International Consultative Council for Radio Communications. Its members met to inspect three different systems of color television submitted by France, Western Germany and the U.S.

The conferees were expected to make a unanimous choice, based on purely technical grounds. But France, in its excess zeal to win the contest and inflict a defeat on the U.S., made this impossible.

Though France has claimed victory, the last word has not yet been heard, however. No formal vote was taken by the gathering, since the purpose of the conference was not to divide but to unite.

New negotiations have already started between Bonn, Paris and Washington in order to make an ultimate effort to merge the three rival systems into one that can be used internationally.

To estimate the outcome, it is useful to analyze the tactics employed at the conference here — particularly those of France.

First of all, in its obsession with leadership, France jumped the gun. A few days before the meeting opened, France signed a pact with the Soviet Union, in which Russia promised to adopt the French system. Since the other 15 communist countries in East Europe naturally followed Russia's lead, France came to the conference with a bloc of 16 supporters.

The other delegations were furious. The Dutch denounced the French step as "a new manifestation of blind chauvinism." The Italians accused Paris of having "wrecked all chances for a uniform system that would have brought East and West closer together."

The Scandinavians wondered whether General de Gaulle "has at last shown his true colors." Hugh Carlton-Greene, general director of the British Broadcasting Corp. declared: "Of all the systems in competition, the French is undoubtedly the worst. Political considerations have prevailed over technical merits."

The partner most deeply hurt by the French maneuver was West Germany which had hoped its own system would win. Bonn's secretary of state, Dr. Fritz Carstens, complained publicly that his government was informed of the French agreement with Moscow "only a few days before the Vienna meeting" and expressed concern that East Germany might become separated from West Germany by a color TV curtain that would form "a new obstacle to closer cultural bonds."

The American delegation soon realized that its system could count on only 10 supporters, among them Great Britain and the Netherlands. Six countries—including Norway, Italy and Switzerland—were lined up behind the German technique. The U.S. and Germany finally agreed to combine the features of their respective systems which would have the backing of practically all of Western Europe.

The French did not give up, however. They managed to win over Spain and Morocco. In an attempt to present a picture of overwhelming superiority, France quickly arranged for the appearance of delegations from several countries of former French Africa, who declared themselves in favor of the French system, some by proxy.

But in this manner France finally got 22 supporters.

Though the French promptly announced this as a victory over the U.S. and West Germany, actually France has isolated itself from the rest of Western Europe, which is prepared to install the combined U.S.-German system from the North Cape to Sicily.

The French "success" was achieved only by offering to introduce communist color TV, with all its propaganda implications, into areas so far closed to it.

If the new negotiations now under way can resolve the conflict, an ugly cultural cold war between countries that have been allies, will be avoided. If the talks fail, the matter will be decided by a majority vote at the plenary session of CIRC in Oslo in 1966.

LOWEST FORM OF LIFE—In this Saigon tangle of autos, buses and pedal taxis, the pedestrain is the lowest form of life. Saigon seems safe from Communist invasion, but not the local traffic. (AP Wirephoto)

PEDESTRIAN IS FAIR GAME

Saigon Safe From Communists, But Not Traffic On Streets

By HAL BOYLE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In war-torn South Viet Nam, you may take your life in your hands if you venture far outside Saigon.

But if you do much walking inside Saigon, you take your life in your feet.

There is no such thing as an innocent bystander here.

Particularly if he is a pedestrian he is fair game for all and the only time he isn't in danger of being run down is during the curfew hours between 2 and 4 a.m. If he is abroad then he is only in danger of being shot by the police.

It is said that one reason the besieging Viet Cong haven't taken Saigon is that after reaching the outskirts of the city they decided it would be hopeless to try to fight their way through the traffic.

Saigon traffic is famous throughout the Far East. It starts early in the morning and, except for a three-hour siesta break, continues until it gets too dark to see a pedestrain.

If you strike one and are found at fault you must pay his hospital or funeral costs. Rules of the road prohibit a motorist from pursuing the pedestrian across sidewalks or into public buildings.

"Actually you rarely see a pedestrian or bicyclist badly injured," remarked a motorist who has won an unsafe driver's badge with three oak leaf clusters. "The main idea is merely to brush him out of the way with your bumper."

The traffic here is picturesque as well as impossible. The streets are a rolling museum of the history of wheeled vehicles.

Your status depends on whether you own your vehicle, what kind of wheels it has and how much it cost.

At the bottom of the social totem pole is the cyclo driver who wears a conical hat and operates a pedal taxi resembling a bike pushing a wheel chair.

From this social basement your prestige goes up to the motorcyclist to the cab owner to the man who owns his car or even better is driven by a government chauffeur.

The cabbies of Paris are regarded as Europe's wildest steersmen. But in Saigon, everybody drives as if he were a jockey whipping his mount home in a $100,000 handicap race.

Motorcycle owners pride themselves on the number of people they can get on their vehicles. I saw one man and his wife barreling along holding three children as they discussed the world situation in Chinese.

San Rafael Swim Pool Rates Up

San Rafael swimming pool admission rates will increase 10 cents for adults and high school age swimmers, the San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission decided last night.

The present 15-cent admission for swimmers under 12 was unchanged, but high school students will pay 35 cents and adults 50 cents, according to Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director. The rates will apply during the summer at pools at San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools.

The commission approved plans for construction of a drinking fountain and bench at Gerstle Park in memory of the park's long-time custodian, Caesar Bettini, father of Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

A $25 increase in the present $300 per month rent paid Wilkins Post of the American Legion for the city recreation center was approved. The current lease expires June 30, Rodota said.

Dedication of Victor Jones Park in Glenwood was set for June 5.

Volunteer Firemen Can Get Some Sleep

ROYAL CITY, Wash. (UPI)—Royal City's volunteer firemen can get some sleep now — the city government has moved out of their bedroom.

Mayor Sam Poarch has announced removal of the city's office equipment, files and furnishings from their old location in the fire station. The fire department requested the move so a bunk room could be set up for on-duty fire fighters.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

When Legs Of Unequal Length Shoes Or Operation Can Help

VAN DELLEN

When the legs are of unequal length, the question arises whether one is shortened or the other lengthened. This sounds trite but there are conditions in which the growth of the limb is retarded or stimulated. A slight difference in leg length may not be noticeable. It is detected by the physician when the individual seeks help because of backache.

A differenc of one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch tilts the pelvis and puts a strain on the back. This is responsible for the aching. Relief occurs when the shoe is built up on the shorter side. The victim is likely to limp when the inequality is greater than three-quarters of an inch.

THE SOLE and heel can be altered even though a disparity of two or three inches exists. The heavy shoe may affect balance and is somewhat unsightly and awkward. This is accentuated when the shortened leg is the weaker of the two and forced to lift the heavier weight. Surgery usually is recommended when the large thick shoe creates a physical and psychological handicap.

The short limb can be lengthened by operating upon the bone. The maneuver is tedious and convalescence is likely to be prolonged, but the result is worth the effort.

THE PROBLEM in children can be solved by discouraging the good leg from growing so that by the time maturity is reached, both extremities are the same size.

The trick lies in predicting the length needed to even up the two extremities. Growth patterns must be studied carefully to do the job properly.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

YES, BUT UNWISE

D. C. H. writes: Is Amytal the same as nitroglycerin tablets? Also, can Amytal and Rauwolfia be taken at the same time?

REPLY

(1) No. Amytal is a sedative. Nitroglycerine is a fast-acting dilator of blood vessels and is used to relieve angina pectoris. (2) Yes, but unwise. Rauwolfia derivatives also are sedatives even though they have been classified as tranquilizers. This must be taken into consideration when they are used together.

AN OLD AILMENT

R. R. writes: I have looked into an old medical book but could find nothing on Hodgkin's disease. Is this a new ailment?

REPLY

No, and it was omitted because the condition is uncommon. Dr. Thomas Hodgkin first described this enlargement of the lymph glands in 1832 and the disorder was named Hodgkin's disease in 1865. Enlargement of the lymph glands of the neck, armpit, groin, chest, and abdomen is the most common sign.

TEMPERATURE IN TB

H. N. B. writes: Why does a person with tuberculosis have a normal temperature in the morning, but in the afternoon it goes above 99 degrees? Will it be normal after my case is arrested?

REPLY

This is the pattern in tuberculosis and represents an accentuation of the normal. Most of us have a higher temperature in the afternoon than during the morning or night. As a rule, fever subsides after tuberculosis is arrested.

TEMPORARY HOARSENESS

Mrs. W. writes: Could hoarseness be due to nervousness, when the doctor can't find anything wrong with the throat?

Emotional upheavals and periods of excitement could be responsible for temporary hoarseness. If the symptom persists, a more thorough investigation is in order.

Today's Health Hint—Deeply-embedded splinters should be removed by a physician.

Chinese Rocket System Predicted Within 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning nuclear physicist, estimates Red China can develop a nuclear delivery system within five years.

Dr. Urey told members of the Overseas Writers Club yesterday that the Peking regime can produce hydrogen bombs by a relatively simple process.

Urey said Dr. Klaus Fuchs, convicted British atomic spy, evidently transmitted the technique which the Chinese used to develop the gaseous diffusion plant used to produce the bomb.

"If the Chinese are able to make a gaseous diffusion plant," the University of California physicist said, "they would have no difficulty making rockets to deliver nuclear weapons."

San Leandro, city in Alameda County, was named for St. Leander, at one time Bishop of Seville.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Barbra Streisand The Very Greatest

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Miss Barbra Streisand, 23, of Brooklyn, last night starred in her first television special, and the result was a pinnacle moment of American show business, in any form, in any period. She is so great it is shocking, something like being in love.

Well, you do fall in love with her, and for a variety of perfectly legitimate reasons. If you have any affection for the kind of circumstances that produced Miss Streisand, then you must have affection for the result — she seems to have all of the best of American show business, past and present, wrapped up inside of her, and it just comes bursting out. Yet she is uniquely of this time and place.

In her one-hour, one-woman CBS-TV show, she provided ammunition for the argument that she may well be the most supremely talented and completely popular entertainer that this country has ever produced. She simply dwarfed such contemporary stars as Julie Andrews, Elizabeth Taylor, Judy Garland and Carol Burnett. Anything they can do, she can do light-years better. A friend called me after last night's show to say, "she did very well." He was wrong Miss Streisand does not DO what she does. She IS what she does.

Last night's production, created and choreographed with unerring taste and ideal simplicity by Joe Layton, fitted Miss Streisand like a crown. The opening segment had an "Alice in Wonderland" quality of fantasy, with changing sets to match. Miss Streisand sang. The second segment took place in the plush Bergdorf-Goodman department store, where Miss Streisand indulged herself in the surroundings and sang some more. The final segment was concert - style, and she sang.

Well, yes, she sang, but that is about as complete as saying that Tolstoy was a writer. She did everything that made one understand why the stars lined up to see her when last she appeared in a night-club here. She sings incomparably, with astonishing range, cutting through generations. She is so funny with a natural flow of warmth and understanding that it seems a cheapening remark to say she is a great comedienne. Her lyrics are commentaries. Her dance steps are perfectly executed functions of her character in a given number, and can make you roar or wipe a tear away. There is no doubt at all that she is already a great actress.

Youngsters To See Guide Dog Ceremony

With emotions mixed by pride and sadness, six youngsters from different areas of the state will travel to San Rafael's Guide Dogs for the Blind School Saturday.

There the 4-H boys and girls will be reunited briefly with dogs they raised as puppies and then formally present their former pets to the blind masters the dogs are now trained to serve.

The children, from Bakersfield, King City, Turlock, Soquel and Riverside, cared for the guide dogs until they were a year old, as an accredited 4-H Club project.

After this one-year period, during which the dog became accustomed to everyday situations, he was given to the guide dogs school for four months training and one month of adjustment to his new blind master.

Now the dogs and their blind masters are ready to graduate from the school and the youngsters have been asked to come and participate in the ceremony.

Graduation will be Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and is open to the public at the school on Los Ranchitos Road, just off Highway 101.

Center Wing Support Asked

Two thousand Marin leaders were asked yesterday to support the June 8 bond issue for the new Civic Center wing by Fred F Enemark, campaign chairman far the Committee to Complete the Civic Center.

Enemark, whose committee asks a "yes" vote on Proposition "A," said in a letter to selected county residents:

"I feel it is up to the people who care about our county . . . to take a leadership role in backing this campaign. There is little or no opposition to the measure. . . . Our problem is one of conducting a public information campaign."
